NEW RECEIVERS PUT IN CHARGE OF INTERNATIONAL BY U. S. COURT

Judge Reeves Settles Controversy Over Federal and State Receiverships by Agreement.

APPOINTS BEN HYDE AND MASSEY WILSON

Directs Them to Report on Plans to Rehabilitate Company From Which Toombs Took $3,562,000

The controversy over the appointment of Federal and State receivers for the International Life Insurance Co. was settled by agreement of all parties in Federal Court today and Federal Judge Albert L. Reeves of Kansas City assumed sole jurisdiction, appointing a new set of receivers with instructions to study thoroughly and report on the various plans for reinsurance and rehabilitation of the company.

The receivers are Massey Wilson, former president and one of the founders of International Life, and Ben C. Hyde, State Superintendent of Insurance, who were recommended to the court for appointment by Charles G. Revelle, counsel for International Life. They will replace E. P. Wilson and Robert L. Daly, acting State Insurance Commissioners, who have been acting as temporary receivers.

Revelle Urges Reinsurance. In addressing the court, Revelle announced that objection to Federal receivership was withdrawn in the interest of early disposition of the case. Speaking for officers of the company and majority stockholders, he urged Judge Reeves to accept the reinsurance plan by which the Missouri State Life Insurance Co. would take over the $3,562,000 of insurance of International Life. He was supported in his plea by spokesmen for the Committee of Insurance Commissioners of nine states who in investigating the company's affairs had discovered the $3,562,000 shortage in assets withdrawn from the company by its president, Roy C. Toombs of Chicago.

Judge Reeves, however, declared he "would not function for the receivers and would expect the receivers to function for the court." He instructed the receivers to proceed expeditiously but cautiously and carefully with an investigation of the company's condition and a study of all plans of reinsurance, reorganization or rehabilitation which may be submitted. With the appointments, Judge Reeves continued the hearing indefinitely.

"Robbed of $3,500,000."

Attorney Revelle urged vigorously that the Missouri State Life plan be adopted, describing it as a proposal to take over the International Life's insurance and pay of the stockholders at a maximum of $107 a share from earnings over a period of years "without giving anything to the man who robbed this company of $3,500,000."

He described the proposals for reorganizing International Life as "shoe-string and boot-strap propositions calculated to purchase the company out of its earnings." One plan of reinsurance had been offered by the Kansas City Life Insurance Co., but this plan was withdrawn today in a telegram received during the hearing by Roy Yenter, Insurance Commissioner of Iowa and chairman of the commissioners' committee.

In withdrawing his objection to Federal jurisdiction, Revelle related, for the court's information, that no opportunity had been given the International Life interests to be heard when the application for temporary receivership was granted in Kansas City recently. Judge Reeves replied that he was under the impression that all parties had agreed to the suit.

All Urge Quick Action.

Frequently Revelle resorted to his plea against a Federal receivership, declaring that the Missouri State Life plan should be adopted within a few days at most. Every day of receivership, he asserted, would cost the policyholders and stockholders thousands of dollars. He declared the Missouri State Life plan had been endorsed by a committee of stockholders holding proxies for a majority of the 27,500 shares.

Revelle was followed by Commissioner Yenter of Iowa, Commissioner Detrick of California, and Commissioner Cousins of Texas.

J. E. WIDENER FINED $2000 FOR SMUGGLING

Millionaire Sportsman Failed to Declare $838 Watch—Publisher Faces $18,000 Penalty.

By Leased Wire from the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—The undercover campaign by customs officers against smuggling, now being made while hundreds of tourists are returning from Europe, has caught two prominent voyagers in the last few weeks.

Joseph E. Widener, millionaire sportsman and art collector, of Philadelphia, it has just become known, recently paid fines, duties and penalties totaling $2147.50 for failure to declare a watch when he returned aboard the Majestic July 31. The watch, Widener said, had been bought in Europe for $838 and was appraised here at $1,073.75.

Ralph H. Booth, of Grosse Pointe, Mich., publisher and owner of a chain of newspapers in the West, was questioned by Customs agents yesterday in connection with his failure to declare jewels and wearing apparel, temporarily estimated at $9000. With his daughter, Virginia, and Mrs. Booth, he arrived aboard the Leviathan Monday. His declaration had been carefully filled out, showing his family had bought goods valued at just below the $300 allowed to enter duty-free. An examination brought other purchases to light.

CHINESE KILLS TEN AND WOUNDS FIVE IN FRENZY

Cook Runs Amuck With Hatchet and Rifle on California Ranch.

By the Associated Press. FAIRFIELD, Cal., Aug. 22.—Ten Chinese were slain and five seriously wounded when Loy Young, cook, ran amuck on the Wong Gee ranch near here today.

Using a rifle and a hatchet he killed Wong Gee, his wife and three small children.

Four others, including Wong Huen, brother of the ranch owner, fell dead under the maniac's weapons and six others, ranch workmen, were wounded. Low Chuck, 61 years old, one of the wounded men, died in the hospital. Loy Young then fled in an automobile owned by one of his victims, Sheriff J. R. Thornton and posse guarded the highway between Fairfield and Sacramento. The slayer was thought to have fled in the direction of the state capital.

Bodies of the victims were taken to Fairfield. The wounded were taken to the Fairfield hospital.

"BAD BOY" MAYOR GETS 330-DAY JAIL SENTENCE

Newburyport, Mass., Official Also Fined $1140 for Ignoring Zoning Ordinances.

By the Associated Press. NEWBURYPORT, Mass., Aug. 22.—Andrew J. (Bossy) Gillis, the "bad boy" mayor of this city who opened a gasoline station in an exclusive section of the city, was found guilty on four charges before Judge Nathaniel N. Jones today.

He was sentenced to pay fines of $1140 and to serve 330 days in jail. He appealed and was released without bail.

The Mayor's defense was that he thought he had a right to issue a permit to himself and establish the station. The case will be taken to the Superior Court. The City Council will meet Monday evening to pass on the Mayor's application for a permit to sell gasoline.

In withdrawing his objection to Federal jurisdiction, Revelle related, for the court's information, that no opportunity had been given the International Life interests to be heard when the application for temporary receivership was granted in Kansas City recently. Judge Reeves replied that he was under the impression that all parties had agreed to the suit.

WM. ALLEN WHITE SAYS SMITH REPLY IS SHORT ON LOGIC

"Evident Governor Is Trying to Make Up in Emotion" What Case Lacks in This Respect.

RECORD AT ISSUE, KANSAS DECLARES

Not Unfair to Give Roll Call of Democratic Nominee's Votes, Critic Assees in Paris.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

(Copyright 1928, by the Press and Publishing Companies, Inc., New York World and Post-Dispatch.)

PARIS, Aug. 22.—William Allen White, Kansas editor, who has taken a flat in Paris for the rest of the summer, made the following rejoinder last night to Gov. Smith's reply to him, reiterating that he did not attack the Democratic presidential nominee's personality but his record as an Assemblyman.

"Gov. Smith's reply to my roll call of his public legislative record may be only meagerly presented in the Paris papers, but from what I read it is evident the Governor is trying to make up in emotion what the case lacks in logic."

"He was not personally attacked. His character was not assailed. In every statement I made I carefully declared my faith in his honesty. Never have I impugned his motives. Certainly to print the roll call record of the public votes of a candidate of a major party for the presidency cannot be called an attack, when I specifically declared that in printing this public record I was raising no question of moral turpitude, but showing the deep difference in viewpoint between Tammany Hall and the American people."

"The Smith record as he so vehemently explains it—as if he were charged with a crime rather than a habit of political thought—is a Tammany record. That is all I was trying to get to the American people."

"The Hughes race-track gambling bill as Smith explains it is typical. When the bill first came up and went to foredoomed defeat, Smith voted against it. Then he changed his vote. Then he voted for race-track gambling."

"About the matter of prostitution: I do not think now, and did not then, that a discussion about prostitution is a fit subject for a presidential campaign. But the Governor having questioned the accuracy of my first statement, I presented the record. Having presented the record I publicly stated my desire to give the Governor the benefit of every doubt and as far as I was concerned the charges would be withdrawn from further discussion."

"Retracted Nothing Whatever." "Of course I retracted nothing whatever. Why the Governor brings the charges up for discussion after I conceded all he now contends about prostitution, is not entirely clear at this long distance. Naturally I have not read his complete reply. Certainly I shall read it when it returns to America and, however sorry he may be for his own part, however he may demean his sad fate, his public legislative record will face him again and again in this campaign."

"Since when has it been deemed unfair to quote a public man's public record, always presuming his personal and political courage and probity, which I have always done for Gov. Smith. Smith's friends declare he is the platform. His public record therefore is certainly the major issue of his campaign."

Henry J. Allen Denies C. O. P. Connection With White's Charges.

By the Associated Press. WEST BRANCH, Ia., Aug. 22.—Henry J. Allen, director of publicity for the Republican National Committee, assumed personal responsibility yesterday for issuing the recent statement of William Allen White, Kansas editor, assailing Gov. Smith's legislative record on prohibition.

Allen's statement was issued here during the Hoover homecoming celebration in reply to the attack the Democratic presidential candidate made yesterday against the Republican National Committee, charging that the committee had had knowledge of White's statement before it was issued.

"Gov. Smith's statement is entirely correct," Allen declared.

ALLIGATORS BEHIND AND SHARKS AHEAD OF CANAL SWIMMER

Richard Halliburton's Sharp-shooter Scared Off Two Saucians in Gatun Lake.

By the Associated Press. PANAMA, Aug. 22.—Richard Halliburton, American writer, who is swimming through the Panama Canal in easy stages, has emerged unscathed after two encounters with alligators in the alligator-infested Gatun Lake. There are 20 more alligators ahead of him, but when he is locked through the Miraflores locks near the Pacific end of the canal he will be in some danger from sharks between there and Balboa.

Neither of the encounters with alligators amounted to much. The swimmer is accompanied by an army sharpshooter in a rowboat as a guard. The first time the sharpshooter was called into action was on Monday when an alligator was driven off by shots fired at him. The second time was yesterday when an alligator accompanied Halliburton in the Gatun Lake, the saurian trailing about 25 feet behind him. After a few shots the alligator disappeared.

Despite the advice of physicians who examined his sunburned shoulders, Halliburton is continuing his swim, but is wearing a shirt. He does not expect to complete the trip before Friday, swimming by day and resting at night. He started on Aug. 14.

DOUGHTY OLD PEER SAYS 'HELL' AND BREAKS UP A MEETING

"How Dare You Use Word 'Hell' When Ladies Are Present?" Shouts One Woman.

By the Associated Press. LONDON, Aug. 22.—Lord Danbury of Southam, 50 years old, used a naughty word before a mixed assemblage at the Hotel Cecil yesterday afternoon and broke up a meeting of the Royal Society of Animals of which he is chairman.

Trouble started when the peer began to read a lengthy document outlining his views on proxy voting. His opponents moved that some other member take the chair and the motion seemed to carry, but Lord Danbury declined to withdraw. A member approached the platform and his lordship yelled at him: "I don't know who the hell you are, but get out."

Women and men in the meeting booed, shouted and screamed. Lord Danbury: "Few are you use the word 'hell' when ladies are present." Another woman yelled indignantly: "Look at the man who uses the word 'hell'."

This was too much for Lord Danbury. He left the room. But the disorder continued until some body else declared the meeting adjourned sine die.

K. OF C. HEAD FOR 'MORAL' PRESSURE BY U. S. ON MEXICO

Supreme Knight Carmody Pleads at Convention for Government to Help End Church Conflict.

ORDER ROUSED BY SPURIOUS "OATH"

Luke Hart Announces He Will Prosecute Circulators of This "Libelous Document."

By the Associated Press. CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 22.—The religious question in Mexico was one of the most important problems before today's business sessions of the convention of the Knights of Columbus as a result of the annual report by Supreme Knight Martin H. Carmody, Grand Rapids, Mich. Carmody protested against "unfortunate and distressing circumstances of Catholics generally in Mexico."

In the hope of obtaining a change of attitude in Mexico toward the Catholic Church, Carmody suggested that the United States Government be asked to bring "moral pressure and influence" to bear upon its southern neighbor. His report was up for consideration before the convention today.

Spurious "Oath" Prosecutions. Luke E. Hart of St. Louis, supreme advocate of the order, announced "1,000,000 copies of an obscene and libelous document represented as the fourth degree oath of the Knights of Columbus has been sent throughout the country, for the most part in the South, within the past two months after being squelched for over five years. Conditions which are known to all of you have seemed to furnish the occasion for a revival of this infamous and unspeakable libel with the result there is a larger distribution than at any time in the past."

Hart said he had legal papers prepared against six societies and individuals "known to have published and distributed the South, Illinois, Michigan, Iowa and Georgia." Hart said names of the societies and individuals would not be made public.

William J. McGinley, supreme secretary, in his annual report said that 6000 members had been added to the order in the last year and that total assets now were $27,000,000, the sum of $2,500,000 being added the past year.

Inquiry in Mexico. An investigation of treatment of members of the order and Catholics in general in Mexico has been under way by directors of the Knights of Columbus for the last year, Carmody revealed.

The head of the order said that while the Government would not be asked to intervene south of the Rio Grande, pressure could be brought to bear that "would force in Mexico a change of policy or ostracize her from recognition and association by the family of nations."

In deploring the "unfortunate and distressing circumstances of Catholics generally in Mexico," Carmody said:

"All the rights which the fathers of our country proclaimed to be self-evident principles are denied to the citizens of Mexico, except as they would abjure the faith of their fathers and cravenly barter their birthright for a mess of unclean pottage."

"This condition is said to be a matter of internal policy with which the civilized governments of the world cannot interfere. In the pronouncement of our order two years ago we respected it at position of our Government. As loyal American citizens we still accept it."

"We believe that here, as on different occasions in the past has been done by this and other enlightened nations of the world, such moral pressure and influence should be brought to bear through a full and unreserved disclosure of the actual conditions existing there as would force in Mexico a change of policy or ostracize her from recognition and association by the family of nations."

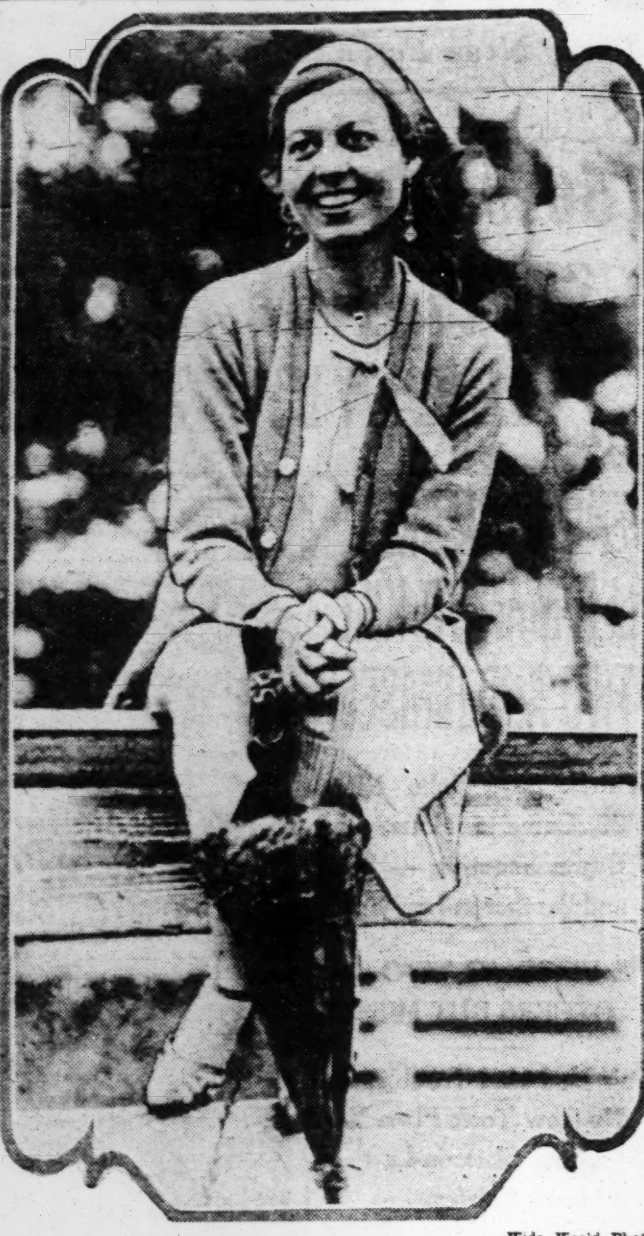

Carmody also denounced the American press for publishing "vicious propaganda" in the guise of news to cast suspicion upon those whom it is the policy of the Mexican Government to place in the light of being in open rebellion to present authority.

The first business meeting this afternoon was preceded by a parade, crowded with color and pageantry, which wound up at public hall where a pontifical high mass was celebrated.

other cities for the ceremony. Boats steaming up the Hudson, buses and automobiles from all directions were bringing more. Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, Democratic vice presidential nominee, and Mrs. Robinson arrived by automobile from Hyde Park with Mr. and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt. The vice-presidential candidate and Mrs. Robinson, together with Senator Pittman of Nevada, and Mrs. Pittman, were to be house guests of Governor and Mrs. Smith tonight. The Pittmans arrived here by train during the early afternoon.

Joseph P. Tumulty, who was President Wilson's secretary, Joseph Guffy, former national committeeman from Pennsylvania; Norman E. Mack, national committeeman from New York, and Charles M. Hay, the Democratic Senatorial candidate from Missouri, are also among those here for the ceremony. Gov. Ritchie of Maryland, Gov. Byrd of Virginia, Mayor Walker of New York, Hague of Jersey City, N. J., and Holcombe of Houston, Tex., Jesse H. Jones of Houston and Judge J. M. Proskauer of New York are among other arrivals in the city.

Crowd of 150,000 Expected.

It has been estimated that approximately 150,000 persons will be able to witness the wedding, except as they would abjure the faith of their fathers and cravenly barter their birthright for a mess of unclean pottage.

SMITH CHEERY ON EVE OF HIS NOTIFICATION

In Vivid Contrast to Hoover Who Stayed in Guarded Home Until Last Moment.

By CHARLES MICHELSON, A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World. ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 22.—Gov. Smith functions very differently from Herbert Hoover. About the State capitol and the executive mansion at Albany there is a cheerful, busy spirit. People dash about in and out of the Governor's room, secretaries interrupt him with messages, visiting statesmen stop for a word, arrangements committees demand his attention, and he breaks off from his conferences to make them—all with apparently no nervousness, no impatience and no break in that good humor of the Democratic candidate for President.

It is rather a shock to one who attended the cathedral-like notification at Palo Alto. The day before Hoover faced 60,000 or 80,000 persons in the big athletic amphitheater there was a funeral calm about the star graduate's residence on the campus at Stanford University.

Hoover Closely Guarded. Policemen and guards not in uniform protected approaches to the home. Inside was silence. On the lower floors people conversed in low tones. To reach the candidate required appeal to half a dozen varieties of buffers.

Somewhere upstairs the candidate rested in solitary meditations between conferences with his chairmen, Work and Chairman Moses. When he did appear he moved gravely, hardly recognizing the presence of others.

When it came time to visit the stadium for his rehearsal the proceedings became almost surreptitious. There was no ostentatious entrance, an automobile appeared, the door opened suddenly and the candidate and Chairman Work boarded it hastily and were whisked away. The outdoor auditorium had been cleared. They tried out the radio apparatus to test satisfaction. Back to the house on the hill they hurried. Work slipped inside. Moses issued and the process was repeated and again the heavy calm rested on the Hoover mansion.

Shift the Scene to Albany. Today Gov. Smith sat amid a score of newspaper correspondents. Everybody was smoking. Some wore golf suits, the Governor wore a plain blue sack suit with a green striped shirt, answering questions as fast as they could be pumped at him. They were not important, referring to a published itinerary which he said must have developed from the tentative schedules the railroad people were submitting for his consideration; what echoes he had heard to his reply to William Allen White etc. Secretary Graves came in and whispered:

"I'll take it here," said the Governor picking up the telephone receiver. "Hello, Bill. No, nothing like that. I'm going to wear my double-breasted gray suit. Bring along your golf clubs. How's that? Sure, come along. All right, good by, Bill."

It was multi-millionaire Wm. P. Kenney telephoning from New York City. Trying out the radio. Again the secretary appeared, this time to advise the Governor that he was wanted to try out the radio. So the conference was discontinued and down the long steps from the Capitol to the stand for tomorrow's function tripped the Governor. There were perhaps 500 people looking over the scene, they recognized him with a cheer. He waved his Panama hat and continued to the platform. Facing him was the full battery of the movie photographers. They ordered him to gesticulate. He waved one arm. The other side. He swung his left. "Now both," and he extended his arms as if to embrace the multitude.

MOTION PICTURE OPERATORS REFUSE REDUCTION IN PAY

Owners of 58 Neighborhood Theaters Propose 10 Pct. Cut as Answer to Plea for Increase.

A proposal that union motion picture operators employed in 58 neighborhood theaters in St. Louis accept a 10 per cent reduction in pay was rejected by members of Moving Picture Operators' Local Union No. 143 at a meeting last night.

The proposal is a counteraction by theater owners to a demand by operators for an increase Sept. 1 over their present wage scale, which varies from $34 to $63 a week, based on the seating capacity of theaters in which they are employed.

Fred Wehrenberg, representing independent movie theater owners here, addressed last night's meeting and told the operators that a reduced overhead was necessary if the small theaters were to continue in business. Wehrenberg stressed the fact that union musicians had agreed to reduce their wages from $48 to $44 a week in small theaters beginning Sept. 1, and also had reduced the minimum number of musicians required in some instances.

KAROLY SAILS FOR U. S. AGAIN

Publishing Co. (the New York World and the New York Daily Mirror). MEXICO CITY, Aug. 22.—Count Michael Karoly, former premier of Hungary, sails today from Vera Cruz for New York, expecting that the State Department this time will interpose no obstacles against a brief stay in the United States.

He was barred in 1925 when he said in Canada things he had promised not to say in the United States about the Horthy regime in Hungary.

He permitted he will remain in the United States a fortnight as he wishes to arrange for the return of his property which was confiscated during the war. He will then return to Europe. He has been in Mexico gathering material for a series of articles on the United States policy in Latin America.

U. S. COURT NAMES NEW RECEIVERS FOR INTERNATIONAL

all of whom urged immediate action and informed the Court that their committee unanimously endorsed the Missouri State Life plan. There was but one dissenting voice in the plea for action. It was made by a stranger in the court who described himself as George E. Nicholson and declined to state his connections when asked by reporters. "My people," he said, "had considered offering a plan of re-insurance or rehabilitation but had not had sufficient time to investigate thoroughly. The great hurry to protect the policyholders and do it today seems strictly out of line in cases of this character," he declared.

Judge an Insurance Expert. Judge Reeves, who has a reputation as an insurance expert, thanked the insurance commission for their recommendation, praising them for their eagerness to protect policyholders. Attorney Revelle had recommended to appoint of Hyde and either Massey Wilson, or his brother, E. P. Wilson. Judge Reeves announced that his failure to re-appoint E. P. Wilson implied no reflection upon him. The receivers' bonds were set at $50,000 each.

Details of Reinsurance Offer by Missouri State Life. The reinsurance agreement proposed by the Missouri State Life Insurance Co., as the basis for its acquisition of the business and assets of the International Life Insurance Co., was filed today in Federal Court.

It provides that the International Life all its business, and premiums now or hereafter due on insurance policies, and its assets, except its claims against Roy C. Toombs and against Toombs & Daily, and its claim, if any, against any person or persons for conversion of assets.

The International, it is stated, is to turn over to the Missouri State Life its offices, records and correspondence, except its charter, stock records and minute books, to which latter the Missouri State Life is to have access. The International is to agree to go out of active business, and to maintain its corporate existence, if at all, only for the purpose of administering its rights and liabilities not conveyed to the Missouri State Life.

On these terms, the Missouri State Life agrees to assume the obligations of the International on all outstanding policies, and on death claims not paid and to institute or restore policies of the International, in cases where the holders are entitled to such reinstatement under their contracts with the International.

The Missouri State Life, however, leaves itself free to cancel any contract of the International Life with any of its agents, which by its terms is subject to cancellation. Contracts not subject to cancellation are assumed.

Leases, rentals and sundry obligations of the International Life are assumed, but the Missouri State Life specifies that it does not assume any obligation on account of any fraudulent, excessive or fictitious issue of stock by the International Life or any of its officers or agents."

Recognizing that the liabilities assumed exceed the assets conveyed, it is stated that "the accounting to be made will necessarily commence with a deficit."

Repayments to Stockholders. Semiannual accountings are provided for, on June 30 and Dec. 31. "Earnings or profits derived by the Missouri State Life from the assets acquired and business reinsured hereunder shall be paid, 25 per cent to the International, the balance applied to the reduction of the deficit, as long as the balance sheet shows a deficit. TOOMBS BANKED STOCK IN INTERNATIONAL HOLDING CO.

Says It Is in Park National, New York, Unhypothecated, Indicating He Repaid Loan on It With Insurance Firm's Cash.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—The 2000 shares of common stock in the International holding company, representing control of the International Life Insurance Co. of St. Louis, are in the vaults of the Park National Bank of New York and are unencumbered.

Roy C. Toombs, testifying here yesterday in the hearing in the receivership of his Chicago investment house, Toombs & Daily, listed the stock as an asset of the investment house. He said that he turned it over to James Bruce, vice president of the bank, and son of United States Senator Bruce of Maryland, for safe-keeping three weeks ago when his affairs began to be troubled.

A dispatch from New York quotes Bruce as corroborating Toombs and indicating his readiness to turn over the stock to its proper owners. It is recalled that Toombs used the stock to secure a loan of $2,000,000, obtained in Baltimore and New York with the aid of Bruce, and used the money as first payment for purchase of the stock. Bruce's statement that the stock is unencumbered, indicated that Toombs repaid the loan with cash and bonds of the International Life Insurance Co., which he withdrew after he came into control last November.

Admits Ownership of Stock. Toombs paid $3,101,211 for the 2000 shares of common stock and told the receiver that he considered it worth at least that amount. As has been told, the 2000 shares cost their former owners $750,000. Examiners who are familiar with the condition of the International think that the holding company's common stock is virtually worthless now.

Toombs admitted that he had ever, leaves itself free to cancel any contract of the International Life with any of its agents, which by its terms is subject to cancellation. Contracts not subject to cancellation are assumed.

Leases, rentals and sundry obligations of the International Life are assumed, but the Missouri State Life specifies that it does not assume any obligation on account of any fraudulent, excessive or fictitious issue of stock by the International Life or any of its officers or agents."

Recognizing that the liabilities assumed exceed the assets conveyed, it is stated that "the accounting to be made will necessarily commence with a deficit."

Repayments to Stockholders. Semiannual accountings are provided for, on June 30 and Dec. 31. "Earnings or profits derived by the Missouri State Life from the assets acquired and business reinsured hereunder shall be paid, 25 per cent to the International, the balance applied to the reduction of the deficit, as long as the balance sheet shows a deficit. overlaid stock of the life insurance company, placing the amount at 13,000 shares. Examiners have traced certificates for 19,500 shares and have been told that 30 additional certificates were signed in blank by the secretary of the company and turned over to Toombs. Three of four warrants issued in St. Louis against Toombs are based upon this overissue of stock.

Toombs declared that Bruce held one certificate for 2000 shares and that another for 3000 shares was still in St. Louis. The examiners have every reason to believe that Bruce holds a certificate for 10,000 shares upon which he lent Toombs $235,000. Three other certificates totaling 9000 shares were used by Toombs to obtain a loan of $500,000 from E. P. Greenwood, president of the Great Southern Insurance Co. at Houston, Tex. Examiners have been unable to trace one certificate for 500 shares which they believe was issued by Toombs.

"In Reasonably Good Condition." Toombs declared that Toombs & Daily possessed securities which would yield $450,000 toward straightening out its affairs. "At least," he said, "securities in that amount were in the company when I was forced out two weeks ago." He said the affairs of the investment house might be considered in "reasonably good condition."

Dr. E. F. Morgenstern, Toombs' close adviser, former physician to the czar of Russia and self-styled student of character, was subpoenaed to testify today.

It is expected that the hearing will continue two more days. Meanwhile Toombs is immune from arrest and extradition to St. Louis on warrants issued there in connection with his manipulation of the affairs of the International Life Insurance Co.

GIRL'S BODY FOUND ON TRAIL

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—The body of an unidentified girl, about 20 years old, cut in two just above the waist, was found today on the Long Island Railroad tracks in the Richmond Hill section of Brooklyn. Her patent leather pumps had been removed and placed carefully side by side near the track.

The medical examiner, after an autopsy, said that the girl had died under the wheels of a train, probably with suicidal intent.

the balance sheet shall show a surplus, the same shall be repaid 75 per cent to International and 25 per cent to Missouri Life, the payments to International to continue until the sum of $1,625,000, with interest at 4 per cent, shall have been paid, or until 15 years from the date of the contract, whichever shall first occur, and when said amount shall have been paid or said period shall have expired, Missouri Life shall be entitled to discontinue such separate accounting and retain all profits and assets of the business thereafter.

In liquidating the International's assets, Missouri State Life is to use its own judgment as to all items up to $25,000 value, and in disposing of items of more than $25,000 value, it is to have the approval of an arbitral board of three. The State Superintendent of Insurance of Missouri, and officers of other states to be selected by him, are agreed on as arbitrators to adjust any question of interpretation of the reinsurance contract.

The contract is to take effect only when approved by the insurance commissioners of nine States, now meeting here, or a majority of them, or a majority of any committee appointed by them for the purpose.

33 SENT TO JAIL FOR VIOLATION OF FEDERAL DRY LAW

U. S. District Judge Wham, in East St. Louis, Clears Docket of 77 Cases — 38 Pleas of Guilty.

FIVE SENTENCES DEFERRED BY COURT

Falling Springs (Ill.) Saloon Proprietor Gets 60 Days — Padlock Order Issued Against Place.

Thirty-three persons who pleaded guilty of violations of the prohibition law were sentenced to jail and fined by Federal Judge Wham in East St. Louis yesterday when he disposed of a docket of 77 dry law cases. Of those arraigned, 39 pleaded not guilty. Except five persons whose sentences were deferred, all who pleaded guilty received jail sentences.

Michael McBride, saloonkeeper at Falling Springs, Ill., admitted he owned property worth $10,000. He was fined $25 and sentenced to 60 days in jail and consented to a permanent padlock on his place of business.

John D. Schmidt was fined $50 and sentenced to 90 days in jail for possession of a still at 2907 Missouri avenue, East St. Louis, that he had just bought for $15. Prohibition agents said he was an "amateur" and never would have produced liquor because his still was set up wrong.

Boasted to Wrong Persons.
Conrad Buechner of New Memphis, Ill., told prohibition agents "I'm too slick to be caught" when he delivered in a woodpile and produced a quart of whiskey. He was fined $50 and sentenced to 60 days in jail.

Mrs. Grace Smith of Murphysboro, Ill., said agents used the name of a close friend to gain entrance to her residence and bought beer she kept only for her friends. She has two children, 4 and 10 years old. She was sentenced to 30 days and fined $100.

John M. Gilbert's sentence was deferred in order that he might have time to harvest his crops at Rose Hill, Ill., and pay his fine. Alfred Jansen, a 17-year-old senior in the Freeburg (Ill.) High School, was fined $50 for tending bar in the saloon of his father J. P. Jansen, who was sent to jail for four months and fined $500.

Arthur Leslie reopened a saloon that his father is now serving a jail sentence for operating at Beckemeyer, Ill. He was fined $400 and sentenced to 90 days in jail.

William Carter, who is 70 years old, said he was in the "beer business to make money." He was sentenced to 30 days and fined $150.

Mrs. Mattie Baker, a widow, told the court that she had opened up a bar in the basement of her residence to support herself and children. Judge Wham assessed a fine of $100 and a jail term of 90 days.

Other Sentences.

Others who were sentenced are: Leo Ripplinger, East St. Louis, $100 and three months; Mrs. Pearl Roper, East St. Louis, $50 and 60 days; Antonio Petermeyer, Breese, Ill., $100 and 60 days; Jule Nance, East St. Louis, $150 and 90 days; Alvin Ethridge, Trenton, Ill., $100 and 60 days; Joe Voss, Breese, Ill., $100 and four months; Milo Sampson, New Memphis, Ill., $500 and four months; Mamie Thompson, East St. Louis, $30 and 30 days; Henry Schifferdecker, Belleville, $75 and 60 days; Joseph Sigel, East St. Louis, $400 and 60 days.

Jerry Cooney, East St. Louis, $75 and 60 days; Ed Wise, Belleville, $150 and five months; Adam Towns, East St. Louis, $50 and 30 days; William Lashwell, East St. Louis, $75 and 90 days; John Goss, East St. Louis, $300 and 90 days; David Harris, East St. Louis, $100 and seven months; Tom Pappas, East St. Louis, $200 and four months; Ruby Logan, Duquoin, Ill., $150 and 90 days; Patrick Bann, Freeburg, Ill., $100 and 60 days; Roy Wagner, Effingham, Ill., $150 and 90 days; Eugene Bryant, East St. Louis, $100 and 90 days; Theodore Ehrhardt, Belleville, $100 and 90 days; Clyde Melvin, $150 and 90 days; George Miller, $150 and 90 days; Frank L. Laube, $200 and five months.

Temporary writs of injunction have been issued against the premises in each case except where the charge was transportation only.

CHICAGO BANK MESSENGER AND GUARD ROBBED OF $19,000

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—Five robbers, armed with shotguns and rifles, escaped with currency and securities valued at $19,000 yesterday after holding up a bank messenger and a guard as they were traveling over West Side streets in a taxicab to a downtown bank.

The holdup was executed as several persons looked on and before the messenger and his guard had an opportunity to draw weapons which they carried. The robbers escaped.

The robbers flourishing their weapons, forced the taxicab to the curb, threatened the messenger and guard and snatched a satchel containing the money and securities from the cab.

New Way to Clean
Dissolves SpotsNO RUBBING NECESSARY NOW
TO REMOVE SPOTS

Scientists Produce Four Liquids and One Caustic Stick That Dissolves Spots—Called
Trump Kit—Takes Out
Ink, Scorch, Rust

The new TRUMP Kit takes out almost any spot or stain without rubbing. This is the new and easy way to keep clothes clean.

Simply apply TRUMP without rubbing. It dissolves. Probably no other invention has had a more marked effect on the cleaning habits of the nation. Here, before a single spot of fruit, ink, perspiration, rust, paint and marks of scorch have meant inevitable dry cleaning expense, now TRUMP takes these out at negligible cost in a jiffy. Drug and department stores carry TRUMP. The kit consists of four bottled liquids and a pencil stick preparation, together with a useful zinc plate and an absorbent chamois pad.

Given free with each kit is a valuable manual on cleaning—tells how to choose, test, clean and preserve all fabrics. Worth many times the $1.25 price of the kit itself.

DEFENDS JAPAN'S AIM TO GUARD MANCHURIA

Speaker at Institute of Politics Says Nation Acts Only to Protect Interests.

By the Associated Press.

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Aug. 22.—The policy of Japan in Manchuria was defended before the Institute of politics today by Hiroshi Satto, Japanese Consul-General in New York.

His country, Satto said, was determined to maintain peace in Manchuria to protect its interests there, and felt that could best be done by keeping the province out of the control of the Nationalists. "Japan sympathizes with the aspirations of the Kuomintang or Nationalist Government," he said, "and sincerely hopes that the unification and rehabilitation of China soon will be attained. China's advancement will rebound to the welfare and prosperity of Japan herself, whereas China's continued disorder will make Japan a great sufferer as an immediate neighbor."

Fears Influence of Reds.
But, he said, there was a question as to the solidarity of the Nationalist party. He touched on the communist influences in China of two years ago, the abrogation of the Sino-Japanese treaty of commerce, and said China seemed ready to ignore the agreements of Washington of 1922.

"In such circumstances Japan does not wish to take a chance by letting the Nationalist power extend to Manchuria, lest the repose and order of that region be irrevocably disturbed," Satto continued. "Manchuria is contiguous to soviet Russia, and Japan naturally is apprehensive that bolshevist tendencies easily may take root and invite the permeation of Russian influences in that area."

"Japan has no predilection either for the South or for the North in China. Japan stands neutral in the Chinese internal affairs in spirit and in action. The essential point is that the Government be solidly organized and that it pursue moderate, reasonable and responsible policies."

Reviews Events of War.
Satto then reviewed the events of the Russo-Japanese war and said that as a result of Japan's course, Manchuria remained Chinese territory.

"Japan has vital interests, political and economic, in Manchuria from the point of view of her National existence and her National defense," he said, "and ever since the Russian menace was warded off, Japan has assiduously engaged herself in the economic development of Manchuria. Her investments there now amount to 2,000,000,000 yen ($396,000,000)."

"She has built cities, driven out bandits, increased China's foreign trade, built railroads, and generally made the territory safe and prosperous. Chinese emigrants are flocking to Manchuria, and 2,000,000 are expected to cross the border in 1928. The Chinese are coming to know that Manchuria now is the only part of China where there is work and security."

Tells Aims of Japan.
Japan's policies in Manchuria may be set forth as the maintenance of the peace and order, and the peaceful economic development of the region. It is essential that in Manchuria the interests and rights of Japanese should be made secure, that their lives and property be well protected and safe and peaceful abode should be guaranteed to Chinese and foreigners alike. Therefore, Japan has no intention of abridging Chinese sovereignty in Manchuria, nor does she purpose to impede the unification of that country.

"Finally, Japan wishes to invite economic activities in Manchuria of Japanese, Chinese and foreigners alike, upon the principle of the open door and equal opportunity."

"Should disturbances develop further in the direction of Peking and Tientsin, and the situation become so menacing as to threaten the peace and order of Manchuria, the Japanese Government, on its part, may possibly be constrained to take effective steps for the maintenance of peace and order in Manchuria."

Says Russia Is Real Enemy.
George Bronson Rea, publisher and editor of the Far Eastern Review, Shanghai, also discussed "the problem of Manchuria," declaring the solution of the Manchurian problem must be based on a mutual recognition of the fact that the real enemy of China and Japan is soviet Russia.

"The peace, prosperity, security and happiness that the presence of the Japanese troops has conferred upon the people of this region have been of far greater importance to world peace and the advance of civilization and on a far greater scale than any similar intervention on our part in the Caribbean," he said.

"American rights in Panama and Nicaragua are similar in principle to Japan's in Manchuria. As the United States will fight to defend her strategic position in the Caribbean, so will Japan, with greater justification, fight to maintain her position in Manchuria, not because she harbors any ulterior designs upon China's sovereignty or territorial integrity, but to preserve those vital, economic and strategic advantages upon which her continued existence as a nation must depend until such time as China herself can guarantee that Russia will never again menace her independence by violating the neutrality of China.

"As long as Mongolia is incorporated in the Federation of Soviet Republics and soviet influence dominates Northern Manchuria, Japan cannot safely entrust the protection of her vast and vital interests in South Manchuria to the Chinese."

"The solution would seem to lie in a regional alliance between China and Japan for the defense of their mutual interests, until such time as China is strong enough to guarantee this territory against aggression."

PRESIDENT ON CRUISE IN APOSTLE ISLANDS

Plans to Return to Cedar Island Lodge Some Time Late Today.

By the Associated Press.
BAYFIELD, Wis., Aug. 22.—President Coolidge arrived here by automobile today after a two-hour trip from Cedar Island Lodge. He immediately embarked for a cruise among the Apostle Islands on the yacht Nollewood, owned by Frank H. Woods of Lincoln, Neb. Mr. Coolidge was accompanied by Mrs. Coolidge, his son, John, and other members of his party who have been with him since he arrived in Superior last June.

If the water did not prove too rough it was planned to take the party to the northernmost island, Devil's, for lunch, then back to the largest of the group, Madeline, for tea at the home of H. L. Gary of Kansas City, whose estate adjoins that of Woods. The return to Cedar Island Lodge was to be made late today.

La Pointe, an old fishing village reminiscent of another age with its single road and picturesque houses, was one of the places to be visited by the chief executive. Its principal points of interest include an old Indian burial ground, its first mission house, the remains of an old French fort and of several old trading posts, including the original one started by John Jacob Astor.

After attending to business, President Coolidge yesterday paid his first call on Duluth, only seven miles away from Cedar Island Lodge, around the bay. For an hour and a half the chief executive motored through the principal streets of the Minnesota city and finally returned to Superior along Duluth's famous boulevard, high up on the crest of the hills that skirt the lake.

It was estimated that 50,000 people turned out to applaud and cheer the visitors. President and Mrs. Coolidge returned the greetings with smiles and waves of their hands.

MARRIED 30 YEARS, WIFE SUES HARDWARE MERCHANT

After 30 years of married life, Mrs. Kathryn Moore, 3549 Birdie avenue, Wellston, today sued to divorce Thomas D. Moore, hardware merchant, charging general indignities. They were married Nov. 4, 1897, and separated last Saturday.

She charges he has been cold and indifferent since their marriage, has not supported his family properly, has refused to associate with her relatives and friends and ordered her not to do so, and has made petty and unjustified accusations.

Moore, the petition alleges, owns $100,000 worth of real estate and has a large income from the rent and his store. Mrs. Moore asks for alimony and allowance for a minor child, Thomas Jr. They have an older daughter.

GOEBEL HOPES TO BEAT MARK

Plans for Easter Cross-Country Flight During Air Derby.
NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Col. Arthur Goebel and Harry Tucker, who flew from Los Angeles to New York in 18 hours and 58 minutes, called on Mayor Walker at City Hall yesterday.

"You've brought Los Angeles an hour nearer to New York than Chicago is by railroad," the Mayor remarked. Goebel replied that on their return trip next month, as contestants in the transcontinental air derby, they hoped to do still better.

Larry Semon Suffers Breakdown.

By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 22.—Larry Semon, movie comedian, has suffered a nervous and physical breakdown, and has been taken to a private sanitarium near San Bernardino, Cal., members of his family said last night. He collapsed a week ago after his return from a vaudeville tour.

JAMES M. COX DENIES TAMMANY TREACHERY

Democratic Presidential Nominee of 1920 Takes Issue With Ex-Senator Owen.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—James M. Cox, former Governor of Ohio and Democratic nominee for the presidency in 1920, took issue yesterday with a statement by former Senator Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma, that the Tammany political organization had not supported the national Democratic tickets in a number of campaigns, including that of 1920.

Cox in a telegram from Bethlehem, N. H., to John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, said: "I assert with full knowledge of the facts that Mr. Murphy (Charles Murphy, Tammany boss) and the organization which he presided over did everything humanly possible for me, the candidate in that contest. Furthermore, Alfred E. Smith, then his party's nominee for Governor, in every speech with unaffected sincerity urged support of the presidential ticket."

"Currents running that year from racial sources chiefly were too strong and turbulent to follow either the course of reason or previous political affiliations. They and the bitterness inevitable in the aftermath of war overwhelmed our cause. It was quite as impossible in the circumstances to carry New York as Oklahoma."

"I have never felt impelled to question the fidelity of Democratic leaders in either of these states. I hold no brief for Tammany. I know relatively few of its members, but I cannot in silence see the record challenged through ignorance or misunderstanding of the conditions."

BELLEVILLE COUNCIL BUYS MOTOORIZED POLICE PATROL

Alldermen Do Not Believe City Officials Will Use New "Black Maria" for Jorjids.

The Belleville City Council, after a fight lasting several months, has authorized the purchase of an up-to-date patrol vehicle, fitted with graded windows and let-down stairs. The council's action is considered to terminate the feud brought on by charges of the Belleville "Lass Cow" party to the effect that city officials repeatedly used for personal trips the big touring car that had been bought to carry prisoners.

The city of Belleville owned a horse-drawn patrol wagon 25 years ago, but it was turned into an ambulance during an epidemic. Later the big touring car was acquired, but gave rise to the charges that more city officials were being carried than prisoners and that persons arrested sometimes had to wait until city officials got back from a joyride. No one will use the new "Black Maria" as a pleasure car, councilmen think.

WOMAN KILLED, TWO INJURED WHEN BUS AND AUTO COLLIDE

Car of Party From Chickasha, Ok., Demolished in Crash at Williamsburg, Mo.

FULTON, Mo., Aug. 22.—A woman was killed and another woman and a boy were injured when their automobile collided with a Greyhound bus early today at Williamsburg, 18 miles east of here. Mrs. A. Porter, 45 years old, the driver, was killed outright. Mrs. Katherine Potter, 56, was seriously injured, and Mrs. Porter's 15-year-old son, Lamar, also was injured. All were from Chickasha, Ok.

No one was injured on the bus, which was the late westbound vehicle from St. Louis. After the accident it proceeded on its way. The automobile was wrecked. The automobile party was bound for Greencastle, Ind., where Mrs. Porter's husband was visiting. They had been driving all day and into the night. The two injured were at the Callaway Hospital.

Japan Agrees to U. S. Treaty Delay.

TOKIO, Aug. 22.—Premier Tanaka told the Cabinet today that the Japanese Government, in accordance with the wishes of the United States, had decided to leave the question of renewing the Japanese-American arbitration treaty, which expires tomorrow, untouched until the opening of Congress, as the conclusion of revision treaties requires the approval of the American Senate.

INDEPENDENT RACE OF NATHAN FRANK OPPOSED BY G. O. P.

City and County Committees Adopt Resolutions Discouraging Idea of Defeated Aspirant's Filing.

PAPE ELECTED TO SUCCEED REMMERS

Park Commissioner's Elevation to Chairmanship
Marks Victory for Mayor in Gaining Control.

Resolutions discouraging the idea of an independent candidacy for the Senate by Nathan Frank, who carried St. Louis and St. Louis County for the Republican nomination by great pluralities but was defeated in the State by Roscoe C.
Patterson of Kansas City, were adopted at the organization meetings yesterday of the new Republican City and County Central Committees.

The City Committee invited Patterson to speak here and assured him of its staunch support. The County Committee went on record as opposing any independent candidacy.

Park Commissioner Pape was chosen chairman of the Republican City Committee, succeeding Oliver
T. Remmers, who had failed of re-election as a member. Joseph J.
Mestres was re-elected to his sixth two-year term as chairman of the Democratic City Committee. F.
William Autenreith of Clayton was made chairman of the Republican County Committee, succeeding Mrs.
Gertrude Le Masters Long. John Cronin of Kirkwood became chairman of the Democratic County Committee, succeeding Peter J.
Walsh.

Victory for Mayor Miller.

Pape's elevation to the Republican city chairmanship, coming as he enters his sixth two-year term as a member from the Eleventh Ward, marks a victory for Mayor Miller and his City Hall advisers in gaining control of the committee.
The Mayor had had numerous friends on the body, but former Chairman Remmers was a lieutenant of Collector Koeln's faction.
Following Remmers' defeat in the primary, Koeln made no fight for the chairmanship.

Assessor Gehner, an appointee of the Mayor, not realizing the Mayor's desire to have Pape get the place, sponsored Peter Anderson, committeeman from the First Ward, for chairman. Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Philipson of the Fourteenth Ward entered the race, supposedly with the backing of Prosecuting Attorney Schweitzer and Clerk Baur of the Court of Criminal Correction. F. W. Evers of the Twenty-first Ward was a candidate, but was induced to withdraw by Pape's friends.

Pape got 24 votes on the first ballot, Philipson 18 and Anderson 11, but 27 were needed to elect.
Three of the 28 women members being absent and all 28 men present. On the second ballot, Philip-son held his strength, but eight of Anderson's adherents switched to Pape, giving him 32 votes and the job.

On Anderson's motion the election was made unanimous.
Mrs. Kate Kuhnert Elected.
Mrs. Kate Kuhnert of the Twenty-fourth Ward was elected vice chairman on the first ballot against two women opponents. Mrs. Celeste T. Blesse of the Twentieth Ward, secretary, and Charles H.
Gillespie of the Twenty-eighth Ward, treasurer, were re-elected without opposition. William Batavia of the Fifth Ward, unopposed, was made sergeant-at-arms.

"We are looking forward," said
Chairman Pape after the meeting,
"to eliminating any factional feeling that existed in the committee.
I am in a position to be on the most friendly terms with every member. I expect to be fair and impartial and not be dominated by any faction. I realize this position is going to require a great deal of hard work. I feel I am thoroughly capable of accomplishing such duties as I am called on to perform.
My sole reason for desiring to be chairman was to bring about success of the Republican party. Our first effort will be to bring out a big registration of voters and a big vote."

Mestres, representing the Seventh Ward, strove to maintain the impression that he was re-elected Democratic chairman by acclamation, but the vote, with one member absent, was 34 for Mestres and 21 for Joseph F. Dickmann of the Fourteenth Ward, unsuccessful candidate recently for the nomination for Circuit Attorney. The fight on Mestres, which had sprung up quietly, was centered on his persistent refusal to support
Charles M. Hay, the dry Democratic nominee for Senator, and his reported opposition to Franklin Miller, Democratic nominee for Circuit Attorney.

Vice Chairman Re-elected.

Mrs. P. H. Hogan of the Fifteenth Ward was re-elected vice chairman by a vote of 36 to 19, defeating Mrs. David Young of the Twenty-seventh Ward. Mrs. George Sudhoff of the Ninth Ward was chosen secretary, James W. Griffin of the Twenty-fifth Ward treasurer, William Clark of the Twenty-first Ward sergeant-at-arms, and Mrs. Mary P. Hanlon of the Sixteenth Ward assistant sergeant-at-arms.

The Democratic Committee named John P. Egan of 2522 Arlington avenue as candidate for State Representative from the Fifth District, where there was a vacancy. The Committee met again today with local candidates, to select downtown campaign headquarters.

The Republican County Committee resolution frowning on the idea of Frank's independent candidacy for the Senate was directed primarily at defeated county candidates. The committee pledged support to the Republican ticket.

from President to Constable," Fred Essen, county boss, is believed to have working control of the committee. Mrs. Edna Fif-house of 4675 Hanover place, was re-elected secretary of the Committee and Miss May J. Gardner of Baden was made treasurer.
Officers of the new Democratic County Committee, besides Chairman Cronin, are: Mrs. May Elliott of Ferguson, vice chairman; Mrs.
Allie Perkins of Webster Groves, secretary, and Joseph Pondrom of Florissant, treasurer. The committee voted to act as a unit next Tuesday in the selection of a Tenth District member of the Democratic State Committee.

Chick E

Manion Elim

Second-Ro
By His

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—Chick E. Manion, today won into the third round after putting out Dick Bock.

Dr. O. F. Willing of Portland, had little trouble in defeating A. F. Wade of Chicago, 4 and 3.

Manion Loses to Hiser.
Kenneth Hiser of Chicago, defeated Jimmy Manion, 2 and 1. Manion was four down at the turn, but carried the match to the seventeenth green by some sterling golf.

Gus Novotny, University of Illinois star in 1922 and 1923, who put the champion, Ben Stein, out of the running this morning, was all square with Johnny Ames of Chicago, after 18 holes. Novotny won the first extra hole, as Ames sliced out of bounds from the tee, and gave him a 19-hole victory.

A veritable golfing holocaust swept through the first match round, wiping out all four remaining British contenders and along with them the medalist and the defending titleholder.

All six went out at the hands of young Americans, mostly university golfers. First went Ben Stein of Seattle, defending champion, who fell before Gus Novotny of the University of Illinois.

Kenneth Hiser, twice being 19 champion from the University of Chicago, eliminated John Dawson, Chicago, medalist.

T. P. Perkins of England went down before Ira Couch, Chicago; T. A. Torrence took his beating from Charles Fish, Joliet, Ill.; University of Illinois golfer, Dr. William Twaddell, was downed by Lawrence Moller, university student of Quincy, Ill.; and Eustace Storey fell before Rial Rolfe, Chicago.

About the only favorite who came through was Chick Evans, eight times holder of the title, who defeated Dick Bockenamp, St. Louis.

Jimmy Manion of St. Louis defeated Arthur Sweet, Chicago, 5 and 3.

JOE MULVEY, FORMER
QUAKER STAR, DIES

By the Associated Press.
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 22.—Joe Mulvey, 71, third baseman for the Phillies many years ago, was found dead of heart failure in the clubhouse room yesterday. He was employed at the ball park as a watchman.

In his day Mulvey was regarded as a great third baseman. He came to the Phillies in 1884 from Providence and played later with the old Baltimore Orioles when McGraw and Jennings were in the lineup.

In his day Mulvey was regarded as a great third baseman. He came to the Phillies in 1884 from Providence and played later with the old Baltimore Orioles when McGraw and Jennings were in the lineup.

The English people's first impression of Tunny was one of surprise due to his grammatical ability. They had expected to hear awkward phrases and in general an uncultivated knowledge of the language, but as a British journalist remarked, "his words were uttered clearly and with culture."

The second impression was that Tunny was "a quiet, good-looking man with a boyish, unmarked face, wearing a perpetual half smile."

Upon his arrival, the retired champion recalled his first trip to Europe. "The last time I came over," he said, "when I went to France as an American marine, my suite was not quite so comfortable as the one I had on the Mauretania. It was rather too close to the powder magazine for comfort."

As Tunny put foot on land he was welcomed with the request: "Just a moment, Mr. Tunny, they want to shoot you."

"Well, this is a fine sort of welcome," Tunny exclaimed, bursting into laughter when he saw a battery of photographers lining the dock.

WEE BURN BEATS SMALL FIELD IN BEAUNINGTON HANDICAP AT SARATOGA

ZEIGLER COLT GAINS LENGTH DECISION OVER SON O' BATTLE

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 22.—William Zeigler's Wee Burn, quoted at 11 to 5, defeated the odds-on favorite, Son of Battle in the Beaunington Handicap here this afternoon after a hard stretch battle. Wee Burn, with Mack Garner up, won by half a length. Reigh O'gar, owned by Otto Lehman, was third and Black Belle fourth and last.

Today's program was riddled with scratches, due to a heavy downpour shortly before noon. The fast course was transformed into a sloppy one and only pronounced mud-runners were able to race on the difficult track.

Wee Burn showed a liking for the going and coming steadily in the stretch, outgamed Son of Battle in the final drive. Reigh O'gar was easily third. Son of Battle tired under his heavy impost.

Advance II takes Steeplechase. Mrs. M. Lowenstein's English bred colt Advance II, making his second start over the jumps, won the Bonnie Brook Steeplechase, second race, from four other fair jumpers. Advance II, with F. Thornedyke in the saddle, carried his weight well, fenced faultlessly and won with ease from Victor Emmanuel's Mendoza and Mrs. F. A. Clark's Minata.

Advance II is a son of Hurry On, sire of the high priced juvenile Hustle On and other star performers. In his first start at the local track, Advance II lost his ride shortly after the start.

Roger Leonard, promising apprentice, booted J. P. White's Everytime home in front of W. F. Peelson's Buddy Dool to take the opening event, the Schron Lake Purse. Air Chief, owned by H. C. Fisher, was third. Everytime ran in 1:05 3/5 and paid 4 to 1.

MANY CLUBS ARE CRIPPLED FOR STRETCH DRIVE

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—The drive down the home stretch finds a good part of the 16 major league clubs badly handicapped by the enforced absence through injuries of some of their most brilliant stars.

Among the National League contenders the St. Louis Cardinals have suffered greatly through the illness of "Sunny Jim" Bottomley, their slugging first baseman who was the mainspring of the Red Bird attack all year. Bill McKechnie has plugged up this gap by the acquisition of Ernest Orsatti, the Minneapolis recruit but Orsatti is no Bottomley as yet.

John McGraw has been forced to moulder an outfield without the service of Edd Roush most of the year and now the out-league batting champion has gone to a St. Louis hospital for an operation on a torn muscle in his stomach. Roush will play no more baseball this season. At the same time, however, McGraw has added strength to his pitching staff by re-purchasing Jack Scott, once-great right-hander, from Toledo for Bill Walker, the Dehuw stopper and an unannounced cash consideration.

Cubs Miss Two Stars. The Chicago Cubs have been trying to get along for some time without Charlie Grimm, crack first baseman, and now have lost Hack Wilson, the home run slugger, who was suspended yesterday for three days for an "outburst" against the umpires on Monday.

The Pittsburgh Pirates, hard-hit all year, lost Charlie Hargreaves, their first-string catcher, several days ago when the backstop suffered a broken nose. Wright and Scott are two more Pirate casualties.

The Boston Braves will have to get along as best they may without Rogers Hornsby for the next week or so. The Rajah suffered an injured leg in the first game of the current Pittsburgh series.

Casualties in A. L. The American League has no casualty list to compare with the National's but it has not escaped the injury jinx entirely. Miller Huggins, already troubled over the weakness of his pitching staff, suffered another jolt several days ago when neuritis developed in Herb Pennock's good left arm. Just when the willowy left-hander will get back in the game remains problematical.

Frank O'Rourke, third baseman of the St. Louis Browns, will be out of the line for a week as a result of a collision with Heinie Manush in the Philadelphia-St. Louis game on Monday.

GREAT PITCHING RESPONSIBLE FOR ATHLETICS' GOOD SHOWING RUTH

ADDITION OF BARNSHAW MAKES STAFF EQUAL TO ANY IN LEAGUE

By Babe Ruth.

(Copyright, 1928.)
NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Before the season opened, I picked the Athletics as dangerous pennant contenders—and now they're proving it. Any team that can come behind as the Athletics did, and win six weeks turn a runaway as a tough, tight race is quite a club.

In my mind the strongest point of the Athletics' success is pitching. Walter Johnson, Elnor and Quinn take up a quartet of pretty fair pitchers—and when Mack stepped out and bought Sunday, he handed out a pitching staff that is as good as any in the league. Personalities like Barnshaw, Elnor and Quinn are going to be of more use to the club during the final stretch of the season than any other pitcher.

For many years the pass overhead was so great that promoters hesitated to take a chance. Literally hundreds of free tickets were issued, under old "club" conditions, when no law prohibited the sport. It was thought that when the State commission first took charge all would be "jake." Instead, the passes continued to bulk heavy and to represent the margin of profit that promoters might have enjoyed. The situation recently moved the State commission to again limit the pass list, with the result noted above.

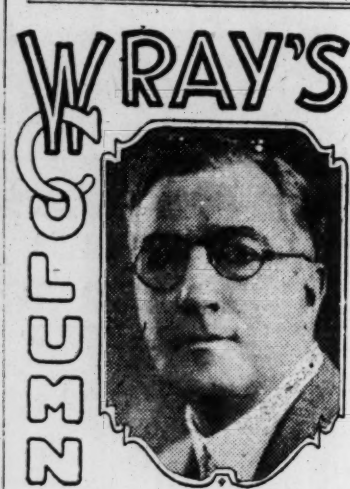

Youngsters Are Hitting.
These two kids have been hitting cover off the ball. Personally I don't think they will continue to do that forever. They're good hitters, but I've got a hunch they're better off hitting the ground. I think they should be playing in the outfield. I think they should be playing in the outfield. I think they should be playing in the outfield.

Think Yanks Will Win.
Nothing down to cases. I still believe the Yankees will win the pennant. I base that on two grounds. First, I think we have a little more power in our batting line than the Athletics. Our hitting power is better distributed. Second, I believe we've got the better pitcher. If the A's beat us, then we mark it down to superior pitching and give the pitchers the credit.

Amateur Baseball.
The A's A. C. defeated the Athletics in a game at Detroit, Ill., 1 to 6. For games with the Athletics, see Harry Harris, 10 Michigan.

They Shall Not "Pass!"

THAT the State Boxing Commission effected a really miraculous economy in the saving of "free passes" to fight promoters was evidenced at the recent program held at the Horse Show arena. On that occasion only 92 passes, of which 42 were for contestants, were issued.

Fifty-two actual free admissions was the net result. Not long ago a list of passes for a certain show ran over 500. The promoters threatened to retire from the game because they could not stand the pressure.

If the various political groups that formerly received large blocks of tickets will remain "put," promoters can at least figure out a way to exist.

He Earned His.
AMBITIOUS young athletes contemplating entry into the fighting game as a profession should carefully consider the future from the standpoint of what it has to offer in return for time, energy, self denial, suffering and courage spent.

Take the case of Patsy Flanagan (or almost any other local boxer), who has been through the mill and who finished disillusioned and perhaps broke, after starting out with high hopes and youthful confidence.

Let Right Hand Know What Left Is Doing, Farrell's Advice to Golf Beginners

By Johnny Farrell.
(American Open Golf Champion, as Told to a Representative of the Post-Dispatch.)

There has always been a great deal of talk among students of golf regarding the part the left arm plays in the swing. There seems to be a general impression that the left arm plays a more important role in the stroking of the ball than its neighbor. This may be true and any number of learned exponents of the game are advocates of this thought, but in my mind there is no such belief.

It is my idea that the part each arm plays in the swing is just as essential as the other. In other words, golf to me is a two-timed game and through the years of my self-schooling I have tried to make my hands and wrists and forearms share the burden of the swing.

The finest model of style of all time—Harry Vardon—has always been known and admired as a two-timed hitter. From start to finish there is no relinquishing of power to either hand. Because of his age, Vardon is not the golfer he was once. The pace of the younger players has become too fast for him but they tell me his swing has not deteriorated; that it is as sweet a bit of rhythm as ever it was. Vardon therefore is a great living lesson to all those golfers who need to be told that the cultivation of style is the prime need of every player.

In the teaching of the golf swing the pupil is cautioned to take the club back slowly and with the left hand in command. With the left hand in command, so that he may, as far as possible, keep the right minding its own business until the time of its entrance as a hitting factor. (Copyright, 1928.)

Morris, Ace of Red Sox, Is Named for a Place on Ruth's All-America Team

Rules Governing Babe Ruth All-America Team Contest

THE contest is open now to all readers of the Post-Dispatch. It will close on Aug. 31 at midnight. Entries bearing postmarks of that or prior dates will be considered eligible.

To select an all-star team from among the outstanding players of the National and American Leagues, with a view to having it coincide with one which Babe Ruth, aided by a committee of sports writers, will select, is the chief object of the contest. And the judges will also be guided in the awarding of trophies by the clearness of the short explanation which must accompany each entry. This little essay, telling the reason for the selection, is essential and must not exceed 200 words. Lack of an explanation will invalidate an entry.

Ten players will make up the team, two pitchers and eight other players, one for each position. Only one team may be submitted by each contestant. No correction will be accepted. Once an entry has been received and filed. Take your time and make your selection final.

"Morris, who has allowed fewer earned runs and thus far has won 15 games with a tail-end club, is deserving as being named as the other hurler," writes a contestant who has submitted a selection which he hopes will match Babe Ruth's in the all-American team contest.

This selection casts a spotlight on a player whose talent has been buried under the discouraging statistics telling the story of the Boston Red Sox for 1928. "Big Ed" Morris has won another contest since that letter was written, and his total of games won for the season is now 16.

Although a newcomer, he had made the major league pace and has allowed considerably less than one hit per inning pitched.

Leo T. Neu, 102 North Fourteenth street, is the backer of Morris and places him alongside Larry Benton, the Giant ace, in the following selection:

Gehrig, Yankees, first base. Hornsby, Braves, second base. J. Sewell, Indians, shortstop. Lindstrom, Giants, third base. Manush, Browns, left field. Wilson, Cubs, center field. Fox, Athletics, catcher. Benton, Giants, pitcher. Morris, Red Sox, pitcher. For the most part, the choice of pitchers has been among Benton, Hoyt, Griggs, Gray, Pennock and Phipps, with Benton leading all the rest. Robert Sanders, 6219 Page avenue, picks Phipps and Benton. His team: Gehrig, Yankees, first base. Hornsby, Braves, second base. J. Sewell, Indians, shortstop. Lindstrom, Giants, third base. Manush, Browns, left field. Douthett, Cards, center field. Fox, Athletics, catcher. Benton, Giants, pitcher. Phipps, Yankees, pitcher. Only 10 days are left in which to submit selections. Those considering sending in teams are asked to review the list of rules (see page 17).

By the Associated Press.
FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 22.—All matches scheduled for today in the women's national tennis championship were postponed because of rain until tomorrow afternoon.

Led by Helen Willis, Berkeley's queen of the courts, the California delegation is making a strong bid for a monopoly in the women's national tennis championship. With only 16 players remaining after two rounds had been completed, five Californians were still in the running today, and most of them very much in it.

"Queen Helen," who is picked to repeat last year's triumph with almost no opposition, showed the way to her followers from the West coast yesterday by losing only one game in her second round match with Mrs. J. Saunders Taylor of New York. Miss Willis' hard game brought the rout to an end in 22 minutes. Another Californian seems destined to elimination at the hands of Miss Willis tomorrow.

In the third round she meets Mrs. L. A. Harper of Los Angeles, who defeated Anne Townsend of Philadelphia yesterday, 6-1, 4-6, 7-5. Of the 10 Californians who started play Monday, three were defeated yesterday, while two others had gone down in the first round. Marjorie Gladman of Palo Alto, national girls' champion, succumbed before the powerful game of Edith Cross of San Francisco, who is ranked third among the coast stars. Evelyn Parsons of Palo Alto, the second Westerner to lose, carried Penelope Anderson of Richmond, double partner of Miss Willis, on her European invasion this spring and seventh seeded player in the championship, to three hard sets before she was defeated, 6-4, 5-7, 7-5.

Former Champions Advance.
Carolyn Swartz of Berkeley, another of the younger generation of Californians, made a brave but useless stand against Mrs. Molla B. Mallory, eight times holder of the national championship, going down before her stinging drives by scores of 6-1, 1-6.

Carefully conserving her strength for what promises to be one of the most interesting encounters of the tournament tomorrow, Mrs. May Sutton Bundy of Santa Monica, Cal., 41-year-old veteran, shot down Violet Doug, one of the first round, conquered another veteran, Eleanor Sears of Boston, 6-1, 6-1. Tomorrow she meets Mrs. Hazel Hotchkiss Wightman of Boston, who won the first of four championships in 1909, five years after Mrs. Bundy captured the title. On the basis of the form she has shown in the first two rounds of the present tournament and in winning the Eastern championship last year, the California veteran is favored to defeat the Bay State player.

The fourth of the Californians who was given a place on the seeded list with Miss Willis, Miss Cross and Mrs. Bundy, Helen Jacobs of San Barbara, advanced to the third round at the expense of Mianne Palfrey of Boston, 6-1, 6-1.

Mrs. Mallory Favored.
Although the farthest West State leads in the number of survivors, Massachusetts and New York are close behind with four each. Besides Mrs. Wightman Massachusetts has Mrs. A. H. Chapin of Springfield, who was placed fifth in the seeding; Marjorie Morrill of Dedham, seeded sixth, and Mrs. William Endicott of Boston. All three passed the second round with straight set victories.

"The New York delegation, headed by Mrs. Mallory, includes Lillian Scharman Hester, who opposes Miss Jacobs tomorrow, Mrs. B. F. Stens and Miss Taubele, all of New York City.

Only three of the last 16 live in other states. Miss Anderson, Virginia Hillery, slated to be Mrs. Mallory's next victim, and Clara Zinke of Cincinnati, who plays Mrs. Chapin tomorrow.

Click Outpoints Tenorio.
NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Joe Glick, the Williamsburg junior lightweight contender, gained a decision over Lope Tenorio, hard-punching Filipino, in a fast 10-round bout at the Queensboro stadium last night. In the 10-round semi final, Tommy Grogan, Omaha, beat Ruby Stein, of New York, on a technical knockout in the fourth round.

Whaddaya Mean Eggs?

ON THOSE pennant eggs our birds are sitting. And they have no thought, old top, of quitting: Till the Giants blew into our fair city.

We'll tell the world they were sitting pretty. While many thought, and on it gambled, That the Red Birds' eggs would all be scrambled, They have not cracked in spite of slipping. And it won't be long till those eggs are "pipping."

Nice Work.
Orsatti, who used to double for Buster Keaton, tried his hand at doubling for Sunny Jim Bottomley and made a four-bagger. That's stretching 'em.

Sunny Jim has been laid up with a bad cold. During the Giant series Jim batted so many balls to Andy Cohen that his percentage was all shot.

Andy fattened his fielding percentage at the expense of Jim's batting average. But that's the way it goes. See where Bud Taylor has relinquished the bantamweight title. But Bud probably won't have to disguise himself with false whiskers or call out the marines to protect himself from reporters when he starts out on a hiking tour or whatever it is he is going to do.

Hunter Seeks a Postponement in Bill Tilden Case

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Following his decision to take the part of his doubles partner and friend, William T. Tilden, in his "trial" on charges of professionalism by the United States Lawn Tennis Association, Francis T. Hunter has started a movement to have the action postponed until after the current playing season.

With the trial set for Friday in New York, Hunter has sent telegrams to tennis clubs and players all over the country asking them to send requests to Samuel H. Colman, president of the U. S. L. T. A. for such a postponement. Hunter's telegram says:

"Careful survey reveals that the consensus in lawn tennis circles here unquestionably that best interests of game from players' and public standpoint will be served by deferring action Tilden case until after current playing season."

WRENCHED ANKLE WILL KEEP JACK SHARKEY OUT OF RING SIX WEEKS

LITHUANIAN IS INJURED DURING A WORKOUT FOR PETERSON BOUT

Risko Suspended By New York Body

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—AILING to appear before the New York State Athletic Commission for questioning, Johnny Risko, Cleveland heavyweight contender, has been suspended.

Risko was summoned before the boxing solons to explain how he came to foul Roberto Roberti in their match at Ebbets Field last week. When the pudgy Clevelander appeared yesterday, he was accompanied by a doctor, and his suspension followed.

As a matter of fact, however, the suspension on these grounds seemed to be something of an idle gesture. Risko would have been suspended anyhow, for fouling of an opponent carries automatic suspension in this State.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Promoters seeking to fill the vacant heavyweight throne will have to get along without the services of Jack Sharkey for the next six weeks at least.

Less than a minute before he would have ended training for a bout with "Big Boy" Peterson at Boston tomorrow night, Sharkey, working out in a local gymnasium yesterday, suffered a badly wrenched left leg.

Now the Boston contender who was headed straight for a title "shot" in 1927 until he was beaten to the canvas by Jack Dempsey's fists, has been forced to cancel only his match with Peterson but another one at Detroit, Aug. 31 against Pierre Charles of Belgium. The injury also forced Sharkey out of consideration for a match against Roberto Roberti, the giant Italian, which Humbert Fugazy planned for next month.

Sharkey's leg was placed in a plaster cast by Dr. W. G. Frisick who said the Lithuanian would be out of the ring at least six weeks and possibly for two months.

Despite the fact that Sharkey was forced to withdraw, Robert McCurdy, matchmaker for the Arena A. A. of Boston, said the show he had planned for tomorrow night would go on as scheduled. Peterson will be pitted against some other foe, possibly Pierre Charles.

SPENCER BEATS PELTZER IN 300-METER RUN

STETIN, Germany, Aug. 22.—Emerson (Eud) Spencer, Stanford University quarter-mile, beat out the German star, Dr. Otto Peltzer, to win the 300-meter run in an international athletic meet held here yesterday under the auspices of the Preussen Sporting Club. Spencer covered the distance in 55.4 seconds, 7 of a second better than Peltzer's time.

Hugh Leistner, Los Angeles hurdler, competed in the 50-meter dash and the 110-meter hurdles losing by narrow margins in each event. Leistner of Germany took the sprint, beating out Leistner by one-tenth of a second. In the hurdle event Leistner lost to Welscher of Germany by an even narrower margin.

ILLINOIS BOARD CLEARS AND DEFENDS BOXERS IN NO-CONTEST BOUT

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—A prize fight does not necessarily have to be a knock 'em down, drag 'em out battle to be satisfactory in Illinois rings. Last Wednesday night, the scheduled 10-round bout between Jack Malone, St. Paul middleweight, and Jack McVey, New York Negro, was stopped by Referee Jack Heinen in the eighth round and declared "no contest."

Heinen charged neither of the fighters had struck a clean blow during the eight rounds.

The matter was referred to the Illinois Boxing Commission, which was expected to suspend the fighters. Instead, the commission ruled the boxers were so equally matched as defensive fighters that neither had a chance to penetrate his opponent's guard.

"Boxing fans and even boxers have a wrong impression of boxing," ruled the commission. "They seem to think both fighters have to punish each other severely to make it a success. Such is not the rule. All the commission asks is that the fighters do their best. We are satisfied Malone and McVey tried as hard as possible."

Arie Wins Clay Target Title in Grand American

VANDALIA, O., Aug. 22.—Shooters who were quick on the trigger were favored in the clay target championship events on yesterday's program of the Grand American Handicap tournament due to the high winds that prevailed and made the elusive targets perform tricks in the air.

As a result Mark Arie, veteran campaigner of Champaign, Ill., was crowned clay target champion of North America when he tallied 198 out of 200. Arie shot 99 in the morning and 99 in the afternoon. Frank Troch, Portland, Ore., shot a perfect score of 198 in the morning and 96 in the afternoon. H. E. Woodward of Houston, Tex., shooting in the same squad with Arie, broke 197 to take second place, which in this event means nothing.

Miss Kitty Boyer of Mount Carmel, Pa., an 18-year-old girl, captured the women's title with a score of 186. It was her first Grand American appearance and she went through the afternoon events like a veteran despite the fact that Marie Kautzkey of Fort Dodge, Ia., was closely pressing her at 182.

The sub-junior title for lads of 15 years and under, decided on 100 targets, was won by Jack Corkey Jr. of Yonkers, N. Y., with an 89. J. E. Lilley Jr., Spartan, Mich., was second with 87.

Casper Coffman III, 17, of Denver, Colo., ran away from the kids in the junior championship when he missed but three targets out of 100, one of the highest scores ever hung up in this event. His closest competitor was R. E. Futerbaugh of Springfield, O., who finished with a 94.

Meyer Heads "Y" League.

Paul Meyer was chosen president of the Y. M. C. A. Industrial Play-ground League at a meeting held last night. Arthur Arison was elected vice president. J. B. Lyon, treasurer and J. S. Whitman, secretary. The league will have 18 teams. Several teams are active. Entries, which close Aug. 23, will be made with the secretary at Locust street.

BOWLING NOTES.

Employees of the Wellston Garage will meet tomorrow night at the Arcade Alley, 5912 Easton avenue, to form a bowling league.

There still are several vacancies in the new Thursday Handicap League on the Heidelberg. The Junior Traffic Club and the Park Avenue Business Men's leagues have started play for the season. The Tuesday Handicap, Heidelberg, E. M. B. A. and the Y. M. S. (St. John's) begin play next week.

Results of first games in the Junior Traffic Club League follow: Transcontinental defeated Central Freight in two games; Mississippi Valley defeated Southwestern in two games; Seaboard defeated Trunk Line in two games.

OLD GOLD bats 1000% as Hornsby takes the Blindfold cigarette test

ROGERS HORNSBY

... capable manager of the Boston Braves ... captain of the 1927 New York Giants ... manager of the 1926 St. Louis Cardinals, who won the World's Series.

Mr. Hornsby was asked to smoke each of the four leading brands, clearing his taste with coffee between smokes. Only one question was asked... "Which one do you like best?"

What gives OLD GOLD this winning charm?

Here is the answer, in three words... heart-leaf tobacco. No coarse, heavy top-leaves of the tobacco plant... for they irritate the throat. No withered ground-leaves... for they are lacking in aroma. Only the cool and fragrant heart-leaves... golden ripe... can give Old Golds their honey-like smoothness. That's why you can tell them in the dark.

Senator Stephens Leading.

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 22.—Senator Hubert D. Stephens was running approximately 10,000 votes ahead of his opponent, Representative T. Weber Wilson, on returns from 924 precincts out of the 1590 total for the State in the contest for the United States Senate in yesterday's Democratic primary. Wilson's managers believe the downstate vote will cut into Stephens' lead while Stephens followers are jubilant, predicting he will carry the State by between 30,000 and 40,000.

MINNESOTA BUS

Robert Hendricks, 24, of 2614 Lyndhurst Av., in County, Burned to Death in Wreck at Red Wing.

By the Associated Press.
RED WING, Minn., Aug. 22.—Two of the four victims of the fatal bus accident near here Monday have been identified as Robert Hendricks, 2614 Lyndhurst avenue, St. Louis, and Caleb Olson of Shelby, Minn.

A wrist watch found on Hendricks, a dental student, led to his identification by friends in Minneapolis, where he was expected for a visit. Olson was identified by a tag on his key ring, coupled with a description obtained by telephone from a sister.

The other two men who were burned to death when the bus collided with a truck and then caught fire remain unidentified.

The loaded bus was on its way from Chicago to Minneapolis when it collided with a truck of the Minnesota State Fish and Game Department.

The bus and truck collided on a curve on State Highway No. 3. The bus was upset in the collision and caught fire.

Several passengers were rescued by being pulled through the windows by other passengers who had escaped unhurt.

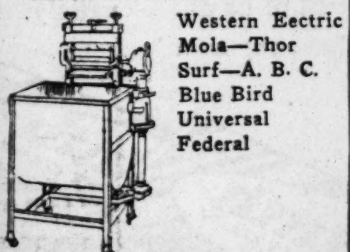

Hendricks was Junior in Dental Class at Washington U.

Hendricks was 24 years old and a member of the junior dental class at Washington University. He had been employed in a Chicago dental laboratory during the summer and was on his way to Minneapolis to attend a dental convention when killed. The body was identified by Joseph Stahl, formerly of St. Louis, whom Hendricks had planned to visit while in Minneapolis. Hendricks' father, H. O. Hendricks, departed for Red Wing yesterday and is expected to arrive here with the body tomorrow. Funeral arrangements will be announced. The family resides at the Lyndhurst avenue address in St. Louis County.

SECOND MAN ARRESTED
IN ATTEMPTED HOLDUP

Earl Bailey Said to Have Admitted Planning Robbery of Insurance Company Cashier.

A second arrest was made today in the unsuccessful attempt yesterday to rob Theodore Mohr, cashier for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., of a bag containing $4200 cash and $5400 in checks near the North St. Louis Trust Co., 3500 North Grand boulevard.

Earl Bailey, 21 years old, a laborer, was taken into custody at his home, 2726 University street, as the accomplice of Sam Turco, 15, 1300 Dolman street, who was captured by police after he had slugged Mohr with a revolver. Bailey admitted planning the robbery with Turco, police said, and told this story:

"We were out of work and needed money, so we planned this stick-up. Monday night we slept in Lafayette Park and then went to wait for this cashier in an alley near the bank. There were some people around when he came by, so we followed him to the bank. Turco, instead of pointing the pistol at him, hit him with it. As I started to pick up the sack of money, I saw the bank watchman coming toward us, so I ran. Turco dropped his pistol and ran, too. I beat the police and watchman running."

GAINS AGAIN

[97%]

AMERICAN motorists buy more and more Dunlops. This July — 97% more than July a year ago.

June was 65% ahead. May, a gain of 62%.

Add to these gains the fact that there are over 26 million Dunlops now running. Isn't it easy to believe that Dunlops must be better tires?

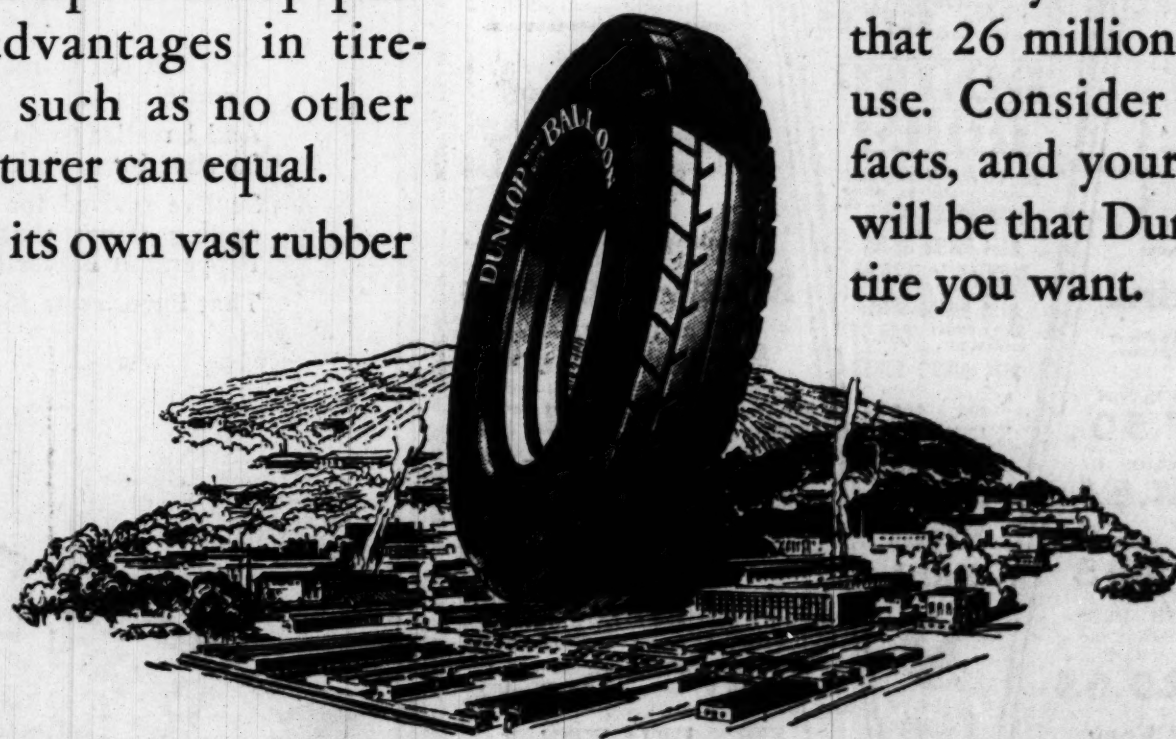

And the reasons for Dunlops superiority are just as easy to understand. Summed up: Dunlop possesses advantages in tire-making such as no other manufacturer can equal.

Owning its own vast rubber plantations...with over $195,000,000 in resources, 40 years' tire-building experience, and 45,000 craftsmen... Dunlop is in a unique position to make consistently better tires.

Better tires attract better dealers. So it is only natural to find Dunlop dealers truly qualified to service your every need.

Consider the value to you of top-notch dealer service. Consider the value to you of tires so good that 26 million are now in use. Consider both these facts, and your conclusion will be that Dunlops are the tire you want.

CUSTODIAN PADLOCKED CHURCH, SAY TRUSTEES

Officers of Negro Congregation Ask for an Injunction Against Dismissed Member.

On a recent Sunday morning when Negro members of the Pilgrim Rest Free Baptist Church approached their house of worship at Twenty-second and Biddle streets they were astonished to find it padlocked. Their pastor, the Rev. J. S. Ross, was unable to preach, they were unable to worship—all through the work of one Dorsey Macky, according to an injunction filed in Circuit Court yesterday by church trustees, who seek to enjoin Macky from disturbing the "peace and harmony" of the congregation.

The Rev. Mr. Ross, it is alleged, was elected pastor last March for "as long as he gives the church satisfaction." He gave satisfaction, according to the petition, and harmony existed until July 15 when he asked for various reports, including a report from the custodian of the church deeds. Macky, the custodian, refused the report and gave the pastor written notice to resign within 30 days. Church members convened and denied knowledge of the notice by a vote of 29 to 7. Finally at a special meeting Macky was dismissed as an officer and a member.

But since then, the petition continues, he has "continued to function, has by threats ordered the pastor from the pulpit, placed a lock on the door, and so interfered with services that the pastor cannot preach."

Wherefore the trustees are asking the court to enjoin Macky from disturbing the church, removing church property, or otherwise disturbing the harmony of its members. If he continues, they say, he will destroy the church and its success as a Christian body.

So I'm an expert, as you can see, in catering to the sweet tooth of the nation.

I've reached top place in my business by surpassing the quality of other makers in our field.

I spare no expense in giving the finest that is known. I use $1 a pound candy ingredients, for instance, in my 5c candy bar.

Now a Gum Like You Have Never Known

Now I'm out to make Baby Ruth Gum the world's favorite.

And I realize to do it, I must give you a gum that's far superior to your present favorite.

So I've revived for you the most costly and most cooling flavor that experts know—the Old-Time Peppermint Flavor that makes youngsters of us all.

That flavor costs $6 a pound to get. I have my own mint especially grown to insure it. Few commercial gum makers are willing to go to that expense.

3 Times Longer Lasting

That flavor lasts 3 times longer than ordinary gum. You cannot chew the flavor out.

It acts 3 times more potently, because of that mint, doctors tell us, on digestion.

It sweetens the breath, both from the mouth and, too, from the stomach. The super mint does that. It cools the throat, after smoking, as no other flavor.

IMPROVING OF M
SYSTEM ONE C
OF REPUB

Speaking at West Branch er Transportation by ways Will Help

By the Associated Press.
WEST BRANCH, Ia., Aug. 22.—
An agricultural conference, in which former Gov. Frank O. Low-den of Illinois and other farm leaders will be asked to participate in search for a common ground on which to act for farm relief, was proposed here last night by Herbert Hoover in his homecoming address in the heart of the corn belt.

"In formulating recommendations for legislation to carry out the proposals of the party," the Republican presidential candidate said, "I trust that we may have the full assistance of the leaders of agricultural thought. They will be invited into conference. Outstanding farmers such as Gov. Lowden will be asked to join in the search for common ground upon which we can act."

The calling of such a conference naturally is predicated on Hoover's election, but he did not indicate whether it would call it before or after his inauguration. His Democratic opponent has announced that if he should be elected he would invite the farm leaders in immediately after Nov. 6.

Hoover reiterated the declaration made in his acceptance speech that the Republican platform proposal for farm relief did not com-template either putting the Government into the control of the business of agriculture or subsidizing prices of farm products by paying the losses thereon from the Federal Treasury or by a tax or fee imposed on the farmer.

More than 15,000 farmers and former Lowden swamped this little town for Hoover's homecoming.
The 700 residents of West Branch will think of Hoover as he passed again into the cottage of his birth for breakfast with Mrs. Jennie Scullers, as he went to pay his homage at the graves of his mother and father in the cemetery east of town, and as he set out to find the "old swimming hole." Two trips were necessary to locate it.

When Hoover descended the temporary stairway leading down into the bowl behind the brick high school he received the acclaim of the throng overflowing the tents.
It was in that setting that the Republican standardbearer gave his second message to the country, a dealing first with boyhood memories and secondly with farm relief.

Calls Up Boyhood Memories.
As he called up recollections of his childhood and the passing of his father and mother, the nominee showed a surge of emotion, but as he passed on to childish pranks of the long ago he had his audience laughing. And then they applauded as he gave a pledge that if elected his administration would seek a sound solution for the ills of agriculture. The crowd manifested its approval of his promise to call in the leading farmers of the country, among them former Gov. Lowden of Illinois, one of the strongest of his opponents in the race for the presidential nomination, in an effort to find "a common ground upon which we can find a common solution."

Hoover seemed to be more at home in facing an audience of his fellow Iowans than he has been at other meetings of the campaign. He appeared and another as the meeting broke up after the singing of "The Star-Spangled Banner" in which Mrs. Hoover and their son, Herbert Jr., and Allan joined. The nominee's also joined in the singing.

Hoover omitted reference to the first proposition—increased tariffs on farm products—saving that for an address today to farm leaders and editors at Cedar Rapids, but he elaborated upon Federal financial aid to farmer-owned corporations to dispose of crop surpluses and development of waterway outlets from the Midwest to the Gulf of Mexico and the Atlantic coast.

Both of the big tents, erected against the possibility of rainy weather, were filled to overflowing, the loud speakers carrying the message to the overflow outside.
A vast radio hookup also sent the words of the candidate into almost every section of the country.

The text of Hoover's speech follows:
"This is a homecoming. It hardly seems an occasion for a lengthy political speech—rather it is an opportunity to recall old associations and renew old friendships.
I am glad, a son of Iowa, to come back to the place where I was born. Here I spent the first 10 years of my boyhood. Here my parents and my grandparents

Of Making Many Books

JOHN G. NEIHARDT

"Queer," but Something More

By Myles Connolly.

(Macmillan.)

It appears that the Mr. Blue here celebrated in a simple and engaging manner was an actual character living physically, not long since, as the whim moved him, and always, if one may accept the testimony offered, dwelling in that Kingdom of Heaven which long ago was said to be within us all.

Every generation contributes its modest quota of similar characters to the perplexing story of Man, and never in a well-marked type of the sort has there been one so conspicuous gift for worldly victory. They are those who in the very nature of mundane things are destined to defeat in the eyes of practical men. But surely there is a curious way of going down beneath the many spears of brutal fact, against which we others strive so desperately, as though the spears were only shadows after all and death were somehow sweet as life itself. They are the mystics, the "fools of God," the "little children of the spirit," and some of them are known as half-wits and some as mad, and some are held in reverent memory as saints. What it is they know that we do not, they find it hard to tell, though now and then, throughout the history of mankind and in widely separated lands, they have lived such lives as men are glad to recall.

Mr. Blue was scarcely a St. Francis, though in the end it seems he rose to a truly Franciscan height of selflessness. Often, even by his own standard of love for all men and all things, his conduct slipped a cog or two; and that he was, at times, not a little foolish by any conceivable test, is hardly to be questioned. Accordingly, there are moments in Mr. Connolly's story, especially in the earlier portion, when a commonsensical reader is likely to grow impatient with this bundle of Mr. Blue, but one reads on, and at the last one isn't quite so sure of many things, and something in the man looms large indeed.

When Mr. Connolly first met the man, as we are told, Blue was living in a packing box placed on the roof of a New York skyscraper. That was some years before the roofs of skyscrapers had been discovered by the many, and Blue seemed "cracked" right enough, though he explained with an infectious enthusiasm to any corner how he thus became the owner of the story hemisphere. His business up there consisted in lying on his ragged back and gazing at his cosmic property when he wasn't flying gaudily painted kites; yet, so we are assured, most of those who came to laugh remained to marvel at the man's sayings, and there were and in his hearers a sense of the adventurousness and beauty and holiness of existence.

At this time Blue neither knew nor cared where his next meal was coming from, and there were days when he didn't eat, but always he gave to those who met him even casually an impression of overflowing joy. Later, we are told, he inherited two million dollars, which he managed to throw away in less than two years, rejoicing the while in thus proving his disbelief in the shadowy things of this world. Had he been not a mystic but a logician, it might have occurred to him to ask what grievous wrong may be done to human society when a man spends that for which he has given no equivalent of any sort. But Mr. Blue, apparently, troubled not at all over the affairs of this world, convinced by something very unlike reason that nothing matters save only the realization of the Kingdom of Heaven within. In this belief he proved himself unselfish—and indeed it has been said on good authority that the Kingdom can be known only to the selfless; for, having thrown away his millions like a child, he turned to helping others in the only ways he thought they could be helped. Living among the outcasts of society, rejoicing in his destitution, he strove by act and speech, but more by act, to change the consciousness of his associates that they too might know the Inner Kingdom. He seemed never to have "preached," never to have laid any sort of claim to holiness, never to have been accounted "pious"; but many a plug-ugly, many a down-and-outer loved him, thus escaping, if only for a little while, the brutal self; and at the last Blue died in saving the life of a Negro laborer.

It is a very "queer" story that Mr. Connolly tells—"queer," yet somehow something more. It is something more and not the "queerness" that will matter to the more fortunate reader.

THE RIVER RIDERS. By Walter W. Liggett. (The Macaulay Co.)

The north woods, now officially discovered and the locale of the summer White House, have an unofficial spokesman in Walter W. Liggett, whose novel "The River Riders" is as fresh as a breeze through the pines. Hay fever sufferers will find none of the noxious pollen of sophistication in this story of the lumber camps at the head of the lake, but there is rather too much excitement for medical patients with weak hearts.

The football game between Minnesota and Chicago in the opening chapter is worth the price of admission. Grahame, playing half-back, continues at his position in spite of a telegram telling of the fatal injury of his father which was delivered to him between halves. His kicks after that are a bit wobbly, but the spirit of Ski-U-Mah triumphs and with the score safely made, the varsity star catches the first train for the North, there to plunge into the task of filling a legging contract made by his father in a desperate plunge for wealth.

There are, in spite of the piling of thrill on thrill, many earmarks of reality. Particularly impressive is the account of a forest fire and the perilous journey of a trainload of refugees from the farms of the cutover land.

New York Day by Day

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.

No city receives more encouragement for thrift than New York and perhaps no city receives it with such a decided 'hum!' Its reckless spending is ever a source of wonder to the foreigner—especially the French, trained to watch sous as Menjou watches his mustache.

There are innumerable electric signs stressing the value of thrift and every bank window is adorned with compelling signs showing how even slight savings may be pyramided into old age independence. Many organizations have weekly lectures to expound the prudence of this idea.

There is a chain of banks that has a small electric sign, "Night Depository," in each of its fronts. The depository is a receiving cylinder into which may be pushed bags of money accompanied by the pass book of the depositor. Each depositor has a master key.

Big department stores have their private savings institutions where a percentage of employees' wages may be deposited regularly and receive a fair interest. It is almost inevitable that when a man or woman on small salary saves the first thousand dollars, thrift becomes a habit.

But New Yorkers are reluctant to make that first step. At a conference of young high-salaried men recently to pool their capital and take over an almost certain successful venture it was discovered eight out of 11 did not have $500 in cash.

The percentage of salaried people taking advantage of loan schemes—some good but mostly bad—is astounding. An authority has stated 80 per cent are harassed by debt. William Johnston, a capable writing man, once wrote an article called, "The Folly of Thrift."

It was convincing and bristling with indisputable facts. Yet magazines hesitated to publish it. The writer proved most thrifty people become inevitable suckers. That is, they save methodically, invest carefully but eventually fall for a get-rich-quick idea and lose all.

SHOPLIFTING in Manhattan drops off 75 per cent in summer. Winter is the season, due to the fact experts can wear heavy coats under which they may conceal their loot. The most successful shoplifters have been women. Men seldom make a success of it.

THOSE who have been tossed out on the Sixth avenue car tracks like a bundle of wet wash by Jack's famous "flying wedge" of waiters will be mildly interested in the fact "bouncing" has gone out. Speak-easies and night clubs—there's tautology for you—no longer employ bouncers. When a patron goes to sleep at a table now he is permitted to sleep it off. After years of scientific investigation and research the proprietors made the astounding discovery that a sleeper bothers no one. If a collegiate grows too noisy, he is reminded of his alma mater and generally begins to cry. Others who wax too boisterous are either laughed or shamed out of their hilarity. Women are more successful handling drunks than men—that makes the night club hostess a big asset. About all the bouncer did was to precipitate a fight that would otherwise not have taken place.

HE is one of those types who portrays haw-haw Englishmen on the stage—you know. "You are quite right, Lady Audrey." He handles a monocle with a flourish, has the correct flair to his evening clothes and an astounding Piccadilly accent. Yet until 10 years ago, when he ran away from home with a river show boat, he had never been outside of a backwoods county in Kentucky in his life.

SIGN on an old sliver: "This can't go on forever!"

THOSE of us who write ally pieces for newspapers are as a rule secretly a bit ashamed of our output. But the most complete abashment was that of a newlywed confrere who telephoned this morning he was not in the newspaper business any more.

"My bride," he said, "is beginning to read my stuff."

For twelve years the pioneer in automatic refrigeration . . . again sets a new standard

ENGINEERING genius planned it. Years of research and experiment developed it. Almost unlimited resources made it possible. And now at last it's here... The New Frigidaire.

Incredibly quiet operation, greater cabinet beauty and convenience . . . surplus refrigerating power built into a new and radically improved compressor . . . this is the New Frigidaire.

Millions of dollars were spent to make possible the New Frigidaire. Not only the experience of refrigeration experts was called on but even that of automotive inventors, chemical and electrical engineers . . . authorities in many different fields. Sound-proof rooms were constructed for tests.

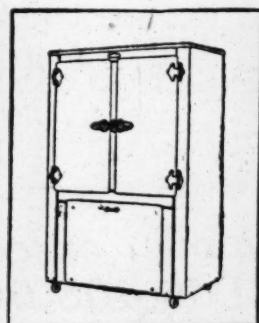

Note that the shelves of this New Frigidaire cabinet are spaced to provide room for tall receptacles. The New Frigidaire is literally an automatic refrigerator. The new model V-5, can be plugged into any electrical outlet.

Sound recording instruments were used, more delicate than the human ear. And all that the New Frigidaire should be noiseless, powerful and economical. The result is an entirely new and radically improved compressor . . . a new development in automatic refrigeration.

The New Frigidaire is incredibly quiet. You don't hear it start. You don't hear it stop. You don't hear it run.

The New Frigidaire has tremendous reserves of power in its simple mechanism. It meets every emergency, every change in temperature, with the same smooth effortless performance.

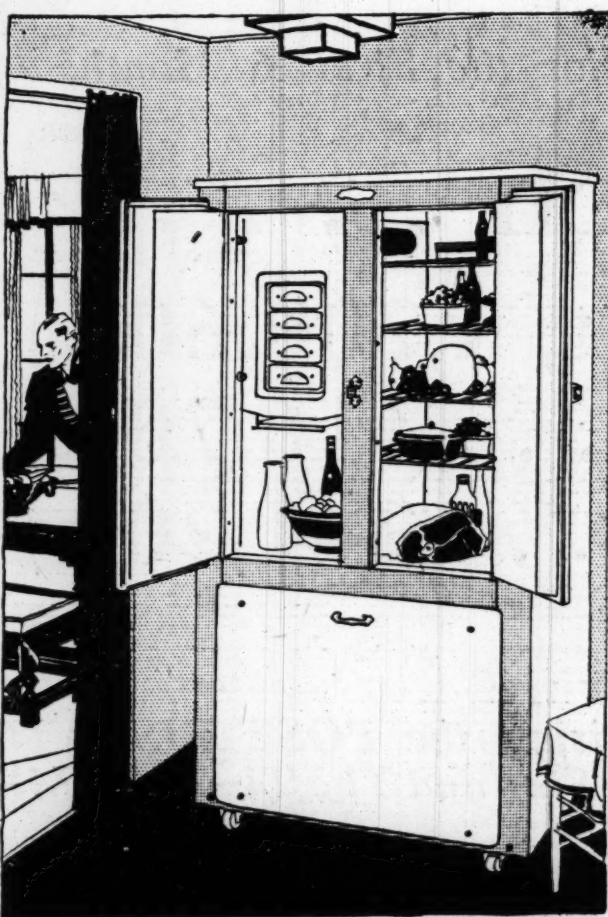

The New Frigidaire is not only low in first cost, but the operating cost of its quiet, powerful mechanism is extremely small. This model, the D-12, makes 96 full size ice cubes.

formance, the same absolute reliability.

The New Frigidaire is the most beautiful refrigerator ever developed commercially. But more important, more surprising even than its beauty, is its convenience. You should see it for yourself . . . you should go over it point by point . . . you should visualize it in your own kitchen . . . only then can you realize the advance which the New Frigidaire marks in convenient housekeeping.

There is a beautiful new Frigidaire

The New Frigidaire, incredibly quiet and powerful, has a wide variety of new models of every size, capacity, and price. This beautiful model D-9, like every other New Frigidaire, is built for convenience. Note that the top of the cabinet can be used for shelf space.

The patented self-sealing ice trays of the New Frigidaire freeze ice cubes quickly but delicate green vegetables are never injured. Frigidaire freezes ice quickly and protects food always.

9 KILLED IN MINNESOTA AND IOWA BY TORNADO

Survey Shows Two Storms Joined in Striking Austin, Minn.—Property Loss $3,000,000

By the Associated Press.
ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 22.—Persons were killed, more than were hurt, some seriously, property was damaged to the extent of $3,000,000 in the tornado which swept through the city of Austin, two Southern Minnesota counties and the Iowa border Monday night. A survey of the area developed the information that two separate tornadoes caused the damage outside of Austin, then joined in striking that city, where six persons were killed and more than 50 were hurt. Property losses there were estimated at $1,000,000. Three additional deaths were reported from near Rockwell City, Ia.

Plans for funerals of the storm victims were underway today, together with relief measures for those hurt, and for the reconstruction of destroyed and damaged buildings.

The survey disclosed that the tornado struck with the greatest fury on a strip about a quarter of a mile wide and about 65 miles long. One tornado originated in Iowa, four miles south of the Minnesota border, while another came from the Southeast and met the first at Glenville, then lashed together at Austin, continuing in a half circle back into Iowa, where it expended itself in a series of storms, traveling eastward. Heavy rains and thunderstorms were reported as it passed on into Iowa and Illinois.

Two Killed in Storm That Swept Wisconsin.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 22.—Destruction of many crops, destruction of farm buildings and livestock that will mean losses of thousands of dollars, and disruption of communication and transportation in some counties, were the effects of the storm that cut a wide swath through Wisconsin and upper Michigan Monday night.

The storm caused the death of two persons. Entering the State from the West, though no counterpart of the tornadoes that hit Iowa and Minnesota, the storm whirled northward and eastward through Wisconsin and the Michigan peninsula. The wind attained a velocity of 84 miles an hour at some points in its rush across the State, wrecking farm buildings and tearing down telephone and telegraph lines.

Trees lining the streets of Waukegan, Wis., were uprooted by the wind. The roof of the city post-office was blown off.

Madison reported a sale swept through the city, hurling trees to the streets and disrupting traffic. The wind cut a five-mile swath nearly a mile wide near Ripon, unroofing barns, demolishing silos and damaging orchards.

WINNEMUKA, Nev., Aug. 22.—Gov. F. E. Baker of Nevada and Lieutenant-Governor Morley Griswold, both ranch bred, will compete in a chariot race at a rodeo here next month.

Baby has little upsets at times. All your care cannot prevent them. But you can be prepared. Then you can do what any experienced nurse would do—what most physicians would tell you to do—give a few drops of plain Castoria. No sooner done than Baby is soothed; relief is just a matter of moments. Yet you have eased your child without use of a single doubtful drug. Castoria is as safe as an infant has any little pain you cannot put away. And it's always ready for the cruder ranges of colic, or constipation, or diarrhea; effective, too, for older children. Twenty-five million bottles were bought last year.

ARKANSAS OUTLAW GETS 67-YEAR TERM

Troy Love Pleads Guilty of Bank Holdup — Another
Sentenced for Murder.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
ST. JOE, Ark., Aug. 22.—With mountaineers crowding the courtroom, Troy Love and Lee Sifton pleaded guilty in Circuit Court at Marshall yesterday, were sentenced by Judge Jesse F. Koone and immediately taken to the penitentiary at Little Rock.

Love, who led the gang of bank robbers that raided the Citizens bank here Oct. 24, last, and who seriously wounded three citizens, received four sentences of 15 years each for murderous assault and bank robbery and one of seven years for burglary, a total of 67 years at hard labor without any recommendation for clemency.

Lee Sifton, who, in a drunken rage, killed Dewey Baker here 13 months ago, was sentenced to 15 years at hard labor. In a general fight in Old Town, St. Joe, presiding the killing, Joe Mann, a farmer, suffered wounds from which he died. Sifton was not charged with this.

Love and Sifton, each under 30 years of age, had long criminal records. Both had been members of the Henley Starr and Dave Lockhart outlaw bands, and after the death of these leaders, assumed leadership themselves. For five years residents of this hill country were organized to hunt them down.

When Love was taken into court at Marshall for trial Monday a citizen, who had been maimed by Love's weapon in one of his raids, climbed over the railing and, grasping with Love made a knife thrust at his throat. Sheriff J. D. Treece rescued Love and armed deputies kept the crowd back. The court was disorganized and the trial went over. A heavy guard has been kept around the Marshall jail.

Meads had spent 25 days in jail awaiting trial on a charge of possessing half a gallon of whisky.

German Town Bankrupt.

By the Associated Press.
ST. INGERBERT, Germany, Aug. 22.—This little town in the Saar Valley virtually admitted itself to be in a state of bankruptcy when it failed yesterday to honor drafts aggregating several million marks. The town's straitened finances are due to the fact that the municipal savings bank extended credits aggregating six million marks without adequate security. The Government announced semi-officially that the difficulties would be overcome within a day or two and payments will be resumed.

"I used to come home from town, or from a trip, and my head would ache, and I would have a little temperature," says Mr. James B. Vaught, of Waynesburg, Ky. "My tongue would look brown, and I would have a bad taste in my mouth."

"That night I would take a big dose of Black-Draught, and the next morning I would get up feeling so much better. After a few doses I would be all right, my tongue clean, and a better taste."

"Black-Draught is about all the medicine I use, for it seems to be about all I need. I am healthy and well, and I feel that Black-Draught will help to keep one that way."

"Thedford's Black-Draught is a pure, mild, vegetable product of nature. It is made only of medicinal herbs and roots that have been carefully selected, and then scientifically combined in convenient powdered form, in clean, up-to-date laboratories. Good for children, grown men and women, and those of advanced age."

Manufacture of Thedford's Black-Draught began in 1840, any man people tell of having taken it all their lives when in need of a laxative or cathartic.

WORK SAYS HOOVER WILL CARRY STATES WEST OF RIVER

National Chairman Avers Ohio and Indiana Are Safe for the Republicans.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Belief that "every state west of the Mississippi will record electoral votes for Hoover and Curtis" was expressed here by Chairman Hubert Work of the Republican National Committee, on returning from his Western trip.

"Ohio and Indiana are safe for the Republicans beyond argument," Work said. "I will make an early survey of the states of the East, many of which have been carefully canvassed in my absence. I have never conceded the loss of a single Atlantic Coast state. It is probable that the opposition will make its strongest fight for these states, which will compel us to meet them with the strongest force possible and this we will do."

Work said he had received many reports of Democrats organizing to support Hoover and Curtis. He cited information from one Southern state that Democrats were organizing Hoover clubs but said emphatically they are "not leaving the Democratic party but are going to vote in protest this year on the presidential ticket."

"In another state, normally Democratic," the chairman continued, "they are setting up a list of Hoover presidential electors at the head of the ticket but with a full list of Democratic state and congressional candidates. Disaffection in the Democratic party is as encouraging to the Republican leaders as the enthusiasm of the country were organized to hunt them down."

BASIC FACTS for the BUYER of a NEW AUTOMOBILE

- 1 Your present car has only one fundamental basis of value; i.e., what the dealer who accepts it in trade can get for it in the used car market.
- 2 Your present car has seemingly different values because competitive dealers are bidding to sell you a new car.
- 3 The largest allowance offered is not necessarily the best deal for you. Sometimes it is; sometimes it is not.
- 4 An excessive allowance may mean that you are paying an excessive price for the new car in comparison with its real value.
- 5 First judge the merits of the new car in comparison with its price, including all delivery and finance charges. Then weigh any difference in allowance offered on your present car. Remember that you are making a purchase, not a sale.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Heavy profit-taking, inspired by expectations of a large increase in brokers' loans this week, checked the recovery in stock prices today after more than a score of issues had been pushed into new high ground. Several of the high priced specialties closed 3 to 11 points higher, but many of the standard industrials and rails fell a point or more below yesterday's final figures. Total sales of 3,100,700 were the largest in about two months.

Averages Show Losses.

The rapidity of the advance in some of the speculative issues led to extensive realizing on the part of traders who felt that the market was entitled to at least a technical reaction. The average of 20 leading industrials, compiled by the Associated Press, had advanced nearly 8 points in the week ended Tuesday night and the average of 20 leading rails about 4 1/2 points with no intermediate reaction. Today's loss in the averages was about 5/8 of a point for each.

U. S. Steel Closes Lower.

When the market turned heavy in the afternoon, selling pressure was most effective against the recent industrial leaders. U. S. Steel, after approaching to within 14 1/2 points of its 1928 high of 154, sold down below 150 for a net loss of more than two points. General Motors dropped from an early high of 159 to 156 1/2, where it was up 1/2. Allied Chemical, American Can, Atlantic Refining, Johns-Manville, Montgomery-Ward and Union Carbide closed 1 to 2 1/2 points lower.

Radio regained its old place as a market leader by soaring 3 1/2 points to 122 1/2, and closing 1 1/2 points under the top. Sears-Roebuck ran up 8 points to a new peak at 147 1/2 and closed within a fraction of the top. National Cash Register touched a new high of 75. Chief interest in the tobacco group shifted to Eisenlohr, which climbed nearly 6 points. Schulte and tobacco products lost ground. Express shares developed extreme buoyancy. Rails were featureless.

Foreign Exchange Easier.

Foreign exchanges were easier. Sterling cables hovered around $4.85 1/2, or close to the "gold import" point. It was pointed out in one quarter that any further advance in money rates would be likely to cause sufficient recession in sterling to bring gold from London to New York.

LAYS DEATH OF FOUR TO WEED COWS ATE

Pathologist Finds Traces of Milk Sickness, Caused by Snakeroot in Bodies.

Evidence of milk sickness, caused by milk of cows which had eaten snakeroot, have been found in vital organs of the four persons who died in eight days this month at Cabool, Mo., by Dr. R. L. Thompson, St. Louis pathologist. The deaths at first were attributed to some unidentified poison, and threats against some of those who died were recalled by Cabool authorities. Snakeroot has been found, however, on the farm of Joseph McGhee, in whose family the deaths occurred. From his examination of tissues sent to St. Louis on suggestion of Dr. E. J. Goodwin, secretary of the State Medical Association, Dr. Thompson, an authority on the disease, concluded that the cause, in the absence of positive evidence to the contrary, was milk sickness. "No absolute diagnosis is possible by autopsy in milk sickness," explained Dr. Thompson. "The poison, which has recently been studied and named 'tremetol' by a scientist in the Department of Agriculture, is not perceptible in the human body by any chemical test so far devised. Cows Not Necessarily Ill. "Frequently the cows themselves are not apparently made ill. Illinois farmers used to drive cows around in a ring to the point of exhaustion to detect signs of 'trembles' caused by the weed. It was reported from Cabool that the cows were not ill. Another element which complicates the investigation is that some persons seem to be immune. Often some of those in the same family, drinking the same milk, will show no effects whatever, while others are made seriously ill and some die. "The investigation must proceed by a process of elimination. Every possibility of known chemical or bacterial poisons must be found out of the question. If then snake-root, or one of the several other varieties of the weed containing tremetol, is found available to the cows, and if autopsy evidence is found, the cases may be attributed to milk sickness. Symptom of Sickness Found. "In this case the milk and water had been tested and retested for poison or bacterial contamination. Examination of the stomach and intestines disclosed no irritant poison. The heart, liver and kidneys showed the extreme fatty degeneration which is probably the strong, characteristic of milk sickness."

MEDITATIONS —OF A— MARRIED WOMAN

BY HELEN ROWLAND.

HOW MANY MEN HAVE "IT?"

Sometimes, I think that more men than women are endowed with "it"—probably because men are less self-conscious than women.

Most men appear to think that just being a MAN is an irrefragable charm in itself—like being a blonde or a prize Angora or a new baby.

And that thought, alone, sustains their amour propre, makes them totally "unselfconscious," and frees them of any inferiority complex.

When it comes to doing the charming, most men leave all the heavy work to women. It never occurs to a man to wonder if he is entertaining, if his new cravat is becoming, or if his nose is shining. Unless he is a professional shik, he never even stops to ask himself whether he has "it" or not. The whole question in his mind is whether or not the woman interests HIM. Once that is settled, it's all over but ordering the flowers and telling her the glad news.

Self-contentment is a wonderful thing! It's a pity that more men are not filled with that sublime self-complacency which is the basis of all savoir faire, and personal magnetism.

It is only when a man's self-confidence sours and turns into conceit that he becomes self-conscious and loses all his "it." For a vain man makes a woman more confident—but it makes a man utterly laughable!

What is masculine "it," anyway? What makes a man attractive to women?

No woman ever loves a man just because he is good or intelligent or handsome or successful—or even just because he is in love with her. She may MARRY him for some of these things—but not for them would make her head whirl dizzily and her heart leap into her throat at the sound of his motor-horn under her window.

"It" in a man, is manner, poise, responsiveness—the light of understanding in the eye, the instinctive knowledge of how to make a woman, without either yawning with listlessness or crushing out all her ideals with caveman tactics.

Many a plain, bald, middle-aged man has more "it" than a coned young Adonis. Many a little shrimp, who understands women, has more charm for the girls than a six-footed Apollo, all brawn and supple.

Most of the men in the public eye, who have "it" are full of self-confidence but devoid of conceit. Lindbergh and the Prince of Wales are probably the two shyest young men in the world today; yet they can never be accused of lack of self-confidence.

CHATTERER WATCHES AND SHIVERS.

mother love makes gentle c'en furthest nature's ever seen.
—Old Mother Nature.

THAPS you remember that Chatterer the Red Squirrel had escaped from Cubby Bear and was hiding in the hole of the old tree in the ground. He certainly was a scared Squirrel. He really had a good look at those kittens. He didn't know that Mrs. Yowler had many babies and so he didn't know just who the kittens were who had given him such a fright.

Chatterer ran along a little underground gallery. It was an old hole that had been made by the Wood Mouse. In fact it was a little small for Chatterer, but he could squeeze through and he did. By and by he came to a dead end. Chatterer felt better then. Up it led to a little hole several feet above the ground. It was good luck. It was good to get out of the hole. But Chatterer didn't know that Mrs. Yowler had many babies and so he didn't know just who the kittens were who had given him such a fright.

Chatterer didn't see anything out of the usual, but a moment later a faint rustle of the leaves caught his quick ears. He looked in that direction. Then he saw a kitten. There was no doubt about it. But it was a kitten with only the tiniest stump of a tail. Even as Chatterer started to run, there was a rush and another kitten pounced on this kitten. Then over they rolled in the grass. They pretended to bite, they chased each other. They played with their hindfeet. Suddenly one of them got to his feet and scampered off. In an instant Chatterer was after him. They were playing. Yes, sir, they were playing. It was rough-and-tumble play, but it was play just the same. They chased each other around the trees. They played hide-and-seek. They played as only two kittens can play. And they played until Chatterer was so interested in watching them that he forgot to be afraid. He couldn't imagine Chatterer didn't have to wait out of the shadows, but he waited. Out of the shadows stepped Chatterer the Bobcat. You may remember that Chatterer drew in his breath and stretched out on the ground last night, all the time fondly watching those kittens. They were playing. Yes, sir, they were playing. They played with her twitch of a tail. She rolled them around with her big paws. Now and again she licked one of them. It was plain to see that Mrs. Yowler was very fond and very proud of her babies, as, of course, a mother should be. For a long time Mrs. Yowler and the kittens played together. Then the kittens grew tired and curled up against their mother for a nap. She herself blinked sleepily. Somehow or other, she didn't look the fierce hunter that Chatterer knew her to be. He thought of this as he watched her. And then a thought came to him which brought with it a feeling of panic. These kittens would grow up. Already there were Mr. and Mrs. Yowler hunting nightly through the Green Forest, and with two more of these fierce hunters, life would be very hard, indeed for the little people in the Green Forest. Suddenly Chatterer wanted to get away from there. He wanted to get home to his own part of the Green Forest, over near the Old Orchard, at Farmer Brown's. He wanted to be where he would not be likely to have Yowler and Mrs. Yowler and these little Yowlers as neighbors. Without thinking, he dug his claws into the wood. They dug a little sound. In an instant the fierce hungry eyes of Mrs. Yowler were staring straight up into his own.

In an instant the other was after him.

This charming white georgette dress makes a very young silhouette. The five flat flounces are hemmed with rhinestones matching the buckle. On the left side there is a loosely draped jabot, softly flying when in motion.

PARIS.
DRESS style is following the other decorative arts toward greater simplicity, contributing its share to the tension of environment which the modern nervous system instinctively seeks.

In my own house in Paris simplicity of design is now the chief aim. A simplicity that is gained by a complexity of technique that only intensifies its appeal to the sophisticated taste of today.

A sculptural line that follows the exquisite lines of the natural feminine figure, enhances its freedom, emphasizes the beauty of its movement and stresses what it naturally possesses—the sheer beauty of the simplicity of a Greek statue.

Our nerves are too strained for the fussy elaborations characteristic of the eighteenth or even for those that were already considered a trend toward simplicity in the years that directly preceded the war.

Such styles were in keeping with a leisureed age. We have forgotten the meaning of the word leisure, and for that reason our women have ceased to be pleased by styles enriched by an intricacy of detail which detracts from the basic simplicity of line that is, after all, the root of all true beauty, whether in dress, in architecture or in furniture.

There is a certain snap in the simplicity of modern dress that was lacking in the styles of all other periods.

The long flowing lines which now please us are broken by no extraneous ornamentation. The only form of elaboration tolerated by modern taste is that which is achieved by exquisite workmanship, a cut that can only be carried out by a master hand, and the use of fabrics that are the best that can be obtained from the looms of France or England.

Black is as smart as ever, and this dress in black broadcloth is one of Delong's best models. The silhouette is long and slim and the shaped front fullness of the bodice is to be noted.

While modern life remains what it is at the present day, simplicity will be the basis of all fashions that are in keeping with the age and, therefore, in good taste, for dress that is out of keeping with its time and its surroundings is a form of eccentricity that can only be deplored.

Perhaps in some future time the pendulum may swing back. We may return to some forgotten standards of leisure that will in their turn bring the type of elaboration they require. But the keynote of modern fashion dictated by modern civilization is—simplicity.

Educated Mothers Children's Need

HER success as the instructor of a sick child is responsible for the prestige of Miss Lida Stillwell of Birmingham, Ala., head of one of the most novel children's schools in the country. Her course is designed to amuse, instruct and guide its 69 pupils through a formative period before they are ready to enter regular public schools.

Several years ago Miss Stillwell undertook to amuse a 5-year-old boy whose illness confined him to bed. Her work attracted the attention of other parents and within a few months she had eight pupils under her care. This class has grown rapidly.

"I think the crying need of the time is educated mothers," she says. "A college should be required to have as a major course in child study a practical, sympathetic as well as scientific course to train universal motherhood."

LINENS FOR THE BEDROOM

ARE you finding it difficult to keep the bed looking as immaculately dressed as though it had "just stepped out of a band box?"

Then have a look at the new tinted damask spreads and their cool smoothness will certainly tempt you to try them as a solution for the problem.

The damask surface is as satiny as one's best table cloth, and—like tinted table linen—stands a great deal of handling before it shows signs of soiling. Then the spread may be popped into a bowl of suds and laundered quickly, with no loss of its original beauty or texture.

The spreads come in soft, low-toned colors—rich maize, green, mauve, raspberry, amethyst, amber—all shades that tone in with modern decorative schemes and provide an interesting color note for the room.

Tinted linen is especially fortunate in combination with the painted woods—a mauve spread with French gray furniture, for example; a maize, raspberry or sea foam green spread with antique ivory furniture and flowered chintz. Amber and maize are in nice harmony with the natural woods, although all colors are used, depending upon the general color scheme of the room.

Because of its indistinct, self-toned figuring, damask is a fabric that can be used equally well with plain or patterned draperies and rugs, and lends itself to all types of furniture. Which probably accounts for a large part of the popularity the new spreads are enjoying in many well-managed homes.

the GREENE MURDER CASE By J. P. Dwyer

INSTALLMENT IX.

HOMICIDE POSSIBILITIES
(Tuesday, Nov. 9, 3:30 p. m.)

SIBELLA entered with a firm, swinging gait, her head held high, her eyes sweeping the assemblage with bold interrogation. She was tall and slender, athletic build, and, though she was not pretty, there was a cold, chiseled attractiveness in her lineaments that held one's attention. Her face was at once vivid and intense; and there was a hauteur in her expression amounting almost to arrogance. Her dark, crisp hair was bobbed but not waved, and the severity of its lines accentuated the overcastness of her features. Her hazel eyes were wide-spaced beneath heavy, almost horizontal eyebrows; her nose was straight and slightly prominent, and her mouth was large and firm, with a suggestion of cruelty in its thin lips. She was dressed simply, in dark sport suit cut extremely short, silk-wool stockings of a heather mixture, and low-heeled mannish Oxfords.

Chester presented the District Attorney to her as an old acquaintance, and permitted Markham to make the other introductions. "I suppose you know Mr. Markham, why Chet likes you," she said, in a peculiarly plaintive voice. "You're one of the few persons at the Marybelle Club that he can beat at golf."

She seated herself before the center table, and crossed her knees comfortably. "I wish you'd get me a cigarette, Chet." Her tone made the request an imperative.

Vance rose at once and held out his case.

"Do try one of these Rories. Miss Greene," he urged in his best drawing room manner. "If you say you don't like them, I shall immediately change my brain!"

"Rash man!" Sibella took a cigarette and permitted Vance to light it for her. Then she settled back in her chair and gave Markham a quizzical look. "Quite a wild party we pulled here last night, wasn't it? We've never had so much commotion in the old mansion. And it was just my luck to stoop soundly through it all."

She made an aggrieved moue.

"Chet didn't call me till it was all over. Just like him—he has a nasty disposition."

Somehow her flippancy did not shock me as it might have done in a different type of person. But Sibella struck me as a girl who, though she might feel things keenly, would not permit any misfortune to get the better of her; and I put her apparent callousness down to a dogged, if perverted, courage.

Markham, however, resented her attitude.

"One cannot blame Mr. Greene for not taking the matter lightly," he reproved her. "The brutal murder of a defenseless woman and the attempted murder of a young girl hardly come under the head of diversion."

Sibella looked at him reproachfully. "You know, Mr. Markham, you sound exactly like the Mother Superior of the stuffy convent I was confined in for two years."

She became suddenly grave. "Why draw a long face over something that's happened and can't be helped? Anyhow, Julia never sought to brighten her little corner. She was always crabbed and faultfinding, and her good deeds wouldn't fill a book. It may be uncharitable to say, but she's not going to be missed so dreadfully. Chet and I are certainly not going to pine away."

Vance, who had been closely watching this clash between Sibella and Markham, now took a hand in the conversation.

"My dear Markham, I can't see what Miss Greene's sentiment has to do with the matter. Her attitude may not be strictly in accord with the prescribed conduct for young ladies on such occasions, but I feel sure she has excellent reasons for her point of view. Let me give you some moralizing, and seek Miss Greene's assistance instead."

The girl darted him an amused, appreciative glance; and Markham made a gesture of indifferent acquiescence. It was plain that he regarded the present inquiry as of little importance.

Vance gave the girl an engaging smile.

"It's really my fault, Miss Greene, that we are intruding here," he apologized. "It was I, d'ye see, that urged Mr. Markham to look into the case after your brother had expressed his disbelief in the burglar theory."

She nodded understandingly. "Oh, Chet sometimes has excellent hunches. It's one of his very few merits."

"You too, I gather, are skeptical in regard to the burglar?"

"Skeptical?" She gave a short laugh. "I'm downright suspicious. I don't know any burglars though I'd dearly love to meet one, but I simply can't bring my slightly brain to picture them going about their fascinating occupation the way our little entertainer did last night."

"You positively thrill me," declared Vance. "I see, our minority ideas coincide perfectly."

"Did Chet give you any intelligent explanation for his opinion?" she asked.

"I'm afraid not. He was inclined to lay his feelings to metaphysical causes. His conviction was due, I took it, to some kind of psychic visitation. He knew, but could not explain: he was sure, but had no proof. It was most indefinite—a bit esoteric, in fact."

"I'd never suspect Chet of spiritualistic leanings." She shot her brother a tantalizing look. "He's really dreadfully commonplace when you get to know him."

"Oh, cut it, Sib," objected Chester irritably. "You yourself had a spasm this morning when I told you the police are hot-footing it after a burglar."

Sibella made no answer. With a slight toss of the head she leaned over and threw her cigarette into the grate.

"By the by, Miss Greene," Vance spoke usually, "there has been considerable mystery about the disappearance of your brother's revolver. It has completely vanished from his desk drawer. I wonder if you have seen it about the house anywhere."

At his mention of the gun Sibella stiffened slightly. Her eyes took on an expression of intensity, and the corners of her mouth lifted into a faintly ironical smile.

"Chet's revolver has gone, has it?" She put the question colorlessly, as if her thoughts were elsewhere. "No—I haven't seen it. Then, after a momentary pause: "But it was in Chet's desk last week."

Chester heaved himself forward angrily.

"What were you doing in my desk last week?" he demanded.

"Don't ask me," Sibella replied coldly. "I wasn't looking for love missives. I simply couldn't imagine you in love, Chet. . . . The idea seemed to amuse her. I was only looking for that old emerald stick-pin you borrowed and never returned."

"It's at the club," he explained sulkily.

"Is it, really? Well, I didn't find it anyway; but I did see the revolver. Are you quite sure it's gone?"

"Don't be absurd," the man growled. "I've searched everywhere for it. . . . Including your room," he added venomously.

"Oh, you would! But why did you admit having it in the first place?" Her tone was scornful.

"Why involve yourself unnecessarily?"

Chester shifted uneasily.

"This gentleman," he again pointed impersonally to Heath—"asked me if I owned a revolver, and I told him 'yes.' If I hadn't, so to speak, I wouldn't have told him. And I thought the truth was best."

Sibella smiled satirically.

"My older brother, you observe, is a model of all the old-fashioned virtues," she remarked to Vance. But she was obviously distracted. The revolver episode had somewhat shaken her self-assurance.

"You say, Miss Greene, that the burglar idea does not appeal to you?" Vance was smoking languidly with half-closed eyes. "Can you think of any other explanation of the tragedy?"

The girl raised her head and regarded him calculatingly.

"Because I don't happen to believe in burglars that shoot women and sneak away without taking anything. It doesn't mean that I can suggest alternatives. I'm not a policeman—though I've often thought it would be jolly good sport—and I had a vague idea it was the business of the police to run down criminals. You don't believe in the burglar either, Mr. Vance, or you wouldn't have followed up Chet's hunch. Who do you think ran amuck here last night?"

"My dear girl!" Vance raised a protesting hand. "If I had the foggiest idea I wouldn't be annoying you with impertinent questions. I'm plodding with leaden feet in a veritable bog of ignorance."

He spoke negligently, but Sibella's eyes were clouded with suspicion. Presently, however, she laughed gaily and held out her hand.

"Another Regie, monsieur. I was on the verge of becoming serious, and it's so frightfully boring. Besides, it gives one wrinkles. And I'm much too young for wrinkles."

"Like Ninon de L'Enclos, you'll always be too young for wrinkles," rejoined Vance, holding a match to her cigarette. "But perhaps you can suggest, without becoming too serious, someone who might have had a reason for wanting to kill your two sisters?"

"Oh, as for that, I'd say we'd all come under suspicion, by any means. In fact, the Greenes are a queer collection. We don't love one another the way a perfectly nice and proper family should. We're always at each other's throats, bickering and fighting about something or other. It's rather a mess—this manage. It's a wonder to me murder hasn't been done long before. And we've all got to live here until 1932, or so it goes on our own; and, of course, stick-pin or borrowed and never returned."

"It's at the club," he explained sulkily.

"Is it, really? Well, I didn't find it anyway; but I did see the revolver. Are you quite sure it's gone?"

"Don't be absurd," the man growled. "I've searched everywhere for it. . . . Including your room," he added venomously.

CUSHION MAKES RUGS FEEL SOFT

By Hannah Wing.

OF the most remarkable of the new products that add to the graciousness of living is a cushion for rugs and carpets which is called a hair felt rug cushion. It is guaranteed to make any rug feel softer when you walk on it, to make an inexpensive rug seem of luxurious quality, and to keep the rug last twice as long. It also keeps thin, light rugs and Orientals from curling and slipping.

There are many interesting facts about the rug cushion. First of all, it is made of hair, like a thin hair mattress. Two scientists have proved that hair is one of nature's toughest substances, that it withstands friction and the action of the elements as well. This hair cushion is soft and resilient, and yet easy to handle and possible to clean and wash like a rug. The last process through which the cushion goes is mothproofing.

Everybody loves thick, soft rugs that feel comfortable and luxurious under foot. Everybody knows that they make an entire room richer and more enjoyable, that they give an indescribable air of charm to a room. A rug cushion will make practically any rug feel like an Oriental. It is so soft itself that it makes a rug just as soft as the expensive imported rugs.

The guests never know that your rugs are cushioned. They simply enjoy the comfort without knowing the cause, unless you tell them.

But perhaps the most important reason for using a cushion is that it doubles the life of your rug. If your rug is laid over the bare floor every footfall hits it like a hammer blow. Every heel comes down with several hundred pounds pressure—hammering the rug against the floor. This action goes on day in and day out, so that the nap of the rug is crushed and the fabric is weakened, twisted and torn.

With a cushion underneath, all this is changed. The cushion absorbs the shocks and blows. The heel sinks softly into the cushion; the rug is protected from the friction and destruction that ordinarily wear it out.

A cushion can be used with old rugs as well as new. It is easily laid—in fact, it is so roll it out in the desired spot and roll your rug above it. It doesn't need fastening. The cushion comes within a few inches of the edge of the rug and is never seen. Rug cushions come in all sizes, sewed on all edges. Cushions are also cut to special sizes for carpets. No rug or carpet should be laid without them.

An Absolute Necessity. A thermometer is really a necessity in the house with a baby. So often baby's head seems feverish to the anxious mother, but when his temperature is taken, either under the arm or by rectum, and the result is normal, mother becomes normal, too, and applies home remedies. Many an unnecessary call for the doctor is avoided by owning a thermometer and many a necessary call is given earlier in a disease by the discovery of a high temperature.

Gleaned From Experience. Baby's little woolen shirts are very apt to stretch out of shape around the neck along the shell-stitch scallop. If you will take a narrow white lingerie ribbon and run it through the shell stitch and then stitch it in place with the sewing machine, the little neck will hold its shape until the garment is worn out.

An Absolute Necessity. A thermometer is really a necessity in the house with a baby. So often baby's head seems feverish to the anxious mother, but when his temperature is taken, either under the arm or by rectum, and the result is normal, mother becomes normal, too, and applies home remedies. Many an unnecessary call for the doctor is avoided by owning a thermometer and many a necessary call is given earlier in a disease by the discovery of a high temperature.

Gleaned From Experience. Baby's little woolen shirts are very apt to stretch out of shape around the neck along the shell-stitch scallop. If you will take a narrow white lingerie ribbon and run it through the shell stitch and then stitch it in place with the sewing machine, the little neck will hold its shape until the garment is worn out.

EX-CONVICT IN HICKS KILLED

William F. Davis Shot at 6255 St. Louis Av., Wellston, a Soft Drink Bar, as He Tries to Draw Weapon

SIX OFFICERS LAY IN WAIT FOR HIM

He Was Suspected of Conducting Extortion "Racket"—Two Men With Him Escape in Auto.

William F. Davis, former convict and bootlegger, charged by a County Coroner's jury with being an accessory to the mysterious murder of Attorney Clifford M. Hicks, April 20, 1927, was shot and killed by city detectives and county Deputy Sheriffs in a soft drink saloon at 6255 St. Louis avenue, Wellston, at 1:45 o'clock this afternoon.

Shot as He Tries to Draw Pistol. Six officers waited for Davis in the rear room of the saloon, on information that he was to visit the place to demand money from the proprietor, Philip Lapato, in connection with an extortion "racket." He was sought, also, police say, for a safe robbery in the city.

Twenty shots from revolvers and a sub-machine gun were fired at and into Davis, who did not have the chance to use his own weapon. He sank behind the bar, which was splintered with bullets.

Two men who were with Davis in an automobile, and who had started to follow him into the saloon, fled in the machine when the shooting began. The officers fired several shots at the car, a Buick. Tom Hayes, who was questioned by the police in connection with the Russo-Longo gang killing, on a vacant lot in Wellston a few weeks ago, was one of the men with Davis, the officers say.

The party of officers was composed of Detective Lieutenant Carroll, Detectives O'Connell and Forthman, and Deputy Sheriffs Schoenbein, Thompson and Schmidt of St. Louis County.

Since the mysterious murder of his friend, Hicks, Davis has built a stucco house, said to have cost $30,000, on Carson road, near Evans avenue, in the county. He has driven a large automobile, and has had an appearance of prosperity.

Both Davis, who served a prison term for counterfeiting, and Hayes, have been known to the police as associates of the local Cuckoo gang, which has close connections with Italian gang warfare and extortionist activities.

Davis Accused by Coroner's Jury in Hicks Murder Mystery. The murder of Hicks occurred April 20, 1927. The body of the lawyer and Sunday school superintendent, who had shady associates, was found in a ditch near Webster Groves. It was riddled with bullets. Hicks carried $265,000 life insurance.

The subsequent inquiry developed facts as to Hicks' fellowship with persons of doubtful character and the means taken to get his large insurance, but it did not point definitely to the identity of the slayers.

Davis, who was known to have been used by Hicks in many personal errands, and Glenn Hicks, brother of the lawyer, who was chief beneficiary of the insurance policies, were named by the Coroner's jury as accessories to the killing. As no principal was named, they could not be prosecuted successfully.

Mrs. Hicks said she once asked her husband if Davis was not a questionable character, but that Hicks told her he had "adopted" it, without explaining his meaning.

Davis, a bootlegger, told the police that he sold gin in case lots, but did not explain his peculiar friendship with Hicks. He admitted being at the Melbourn Hotel on the evening before Hicks' disappearance, when Hicks was also there, but did not admit that he saw Hicks then, or was with him at any time thereafter.

It was learned after the killing
